Bus Improvements Due Soon

By Lewis C. Howe

Local commuters who depend on the Merrimack Bus Company should notice improvements in service now that the Metropolitan Boston Transit Authority (MBTA) has stepped in to help out the foundering bus line.

In an agreement reached August 4, the MBTA pledged to assist the local transit company, which has received numerous complaints from disgruntled riders about poor service and crowded conditions on its often late-running buses.

Terms of the settlement were not made available at press time, but Merrimack's Steve Kaplan had planned to ask the MBTA for additional buses and equipment to maintain and supplement the Merrimack company's aging fleet.

The extra buses, Kaplan stressed, are needed to ensure better bus service for Valley residents who commute to work in Boston each day. Kaplan could not be reached for further comment.

State Representative Susan Tucker (D-Andover), who pushed for extra state subsidies for the financially strapped bus company, said "there will be help available." The MBTA, Tucker commented, "is committed to keeping the bus lines open and to improving service."

The MBTA had originally rejected the Merrimack Bus Company's request for additional equipment several months ago. Tucker organized the meeting between Mer-

New Zones Proposed For Planning Board Consideration

By Karen L. Day

The idea of creating two new types of zones, to replace some current industrial zones in town, have been suggested to the Planning Board by planning staff members. Staff made the presentation of their proposals at Tuesday night's board meeting, which chiefly concentrated on pursuing the industrial review process.

At the outset, goals and objectives of the industrial review were established. Most importantly, the board believes there have been no reasons given to further expand industrial areas. Their goal in current industrial zones is to fine-tune.

The second objective is to work toward mixed use development in targeted locations. In relation to design, the board wants to encourage innovative design and the preservation and restoration of historic-type buildings.

Aesthetically, the board hopes to provide visual and/or physical access to the Shawshen River and to preserve greenspace and landscaped areas. The final goal is to insure adequate infrastructure (water, sewer, etc.) to serve proposed development.

To create situations in which these goals can become reality, staff members suggested two new types of zones to replace some current industrial zoning. If implemented, only two of the current Industrial G zones would remain intact—at Dundee Park and on Tewksbury St.

Although board members agreed the possibilities for such zoning changes are there, they stated much fine-tuning would be necessary before they would even consider implementation—even in the two chief areas the new zones were created for.

A "Limited Business District," (LBZ), was proposed to replace the Industrial D zone along Andover St. and the Industrial G zone on Lupine Road. The change, stated a memo prepared by Town Planner Laura Hill, would "encourage the location of local businesses, such as consumer and personal services, retail sales and offices."

If the proposal is implemented, setbacks in the LBZ would be five feet, as it is in General Business Districts. Maximum height and maximum stories allowed would be more similar to those of a residential area—35 feet tall or three stories. Maximum building coverage would be 30 percent of the parcel as it is in current Industrial A Zones and minimum lot frontage would be 100 feet.

Uses permitted in the proposed LBZ would include everything from banking and offices to schools and restaurants. Daycare centers, roadside stands and accessory scientific uses would be allowed only by issuance of a special permit by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

A LBZ would not allow many of the uses the General Business District does—single and multi-family dwellings,

Before The Marriott

Karen Herman, president of the Andover Historical Society, accepts a photo blow-up of Andover's original hotel, the Elm House, from Andover Marriott personnel. Making the presentation are William Barrett, center, the Marriott's director of marketing, and General Manager William Skoglund.

The Elm House stood where the Musgrove Building does today, on the corner of Elm and Main streets. The historic photograph of the hotel was used in the Marriott's grand opening ceremonies last April and is now permanently on display at the Historical Society offices, 97 Main St.

Completes Course In Marines

Marine Lance Cpl. Richard L. Dubois, son of Richard and Cornelia Dubois, 152 North St., recently completed the basic electronics course.

During the 13-and-a-half-week course, conducted at the Marine Corps Communication-Electronics School in Twentynine Palms, Calif., Dubois received technical instruction in the fundamental electrical and electronic theory common to Marine Corps communication-electronics equipment.

He studied mathematics, direct and alternating currents, solid state devices and electron tubes, basic digital logic circuits and maintenance concepts.

Dubois joined the Marine Corps last September.

Center Announces Calendar

The Early Childhood Center at Shawsheen will open for the first day of school on September 10. By Friday, Aug. 14, letters should have been mailed to all families of incoming students with some helpful information including the child's school session (a.m. or p.m.) and teacher, bus number and pick-up time.

An early fall calendar has been established and the following dates should be noted:

Sept. 10 - First day of school
Sept. 16, - PTO meeting, 7:30 p.m.
Panel discussion regarding children's adjustment to school
Sept. 28 and Oct. 1 - Open House at 7:30 p.m. for parents only. Tour of school and teachers discuss program in classrooms.

Oct. 14 - PTO meeting, 7:30 p.m. Program will be a discussion of curriculum

Oct. 23 - United Nations Day

Oct. 24 - Apple Festival

Oct. 30 - Halloween celebration for children only. Costumes worn to school for a "sing-a-long."

Parents may want to consider a book bag rather than a backpack for their child. This suggestion has been made for the convenience of the child and for safety while sitting on the bus.

August Glass Drive Saturday

Andover's August glass drive for clear and green recyclable glass will be held Saturday, Aug. 15, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Town Hall parking lot next to the park on Bartlet

Street. Andover Recycling, Inc. volunteers will be on the site to help unload cars and place separate colors into the proper sections of the collection bin.

Town Receives $60,000 In Flood Funds

A total of $158,000 in state money will flow into Andover to help sop up the costs of the April floods.

Charles Barry, Massachusetts Secretary of Public Safety, this week presented the town $59,252 as partial reimbursement for the damage done when the Merrimack River burst its banks last spring. Andover was one of four local communities to receive state aid.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that these monies will probably not be spent at this point. "We paid the bills as they came in," he commented, "so the money will go in as reimbursement for the account" from which the town drew funds.

Koligianis Bond Is Reduced

After receiving a new punch-list of unfinished work on the Olympic Village II subdivision streets from the Department of Public Works, the Planning Board Tuesday night reduced the $48,000 bond of developer Arthur Kalogianis to $16,300.

The new punch-list will be sent to Kalogianis, who will have until October 1 to complete the work. Since the bond has long since expired, the board will proceed to take the bond if work is not completed by the October 1 deadline. The town would then be responsible for the completion of the work.

Selectmen Allow Excavation

The selectmen Monday night granted permission to the Bay State Gas Company to excavate in three town streets. The gas company will work at 23 Lincoln Circle East, 156 High Street, 169 Summer Street, and 11A and B High Street.

Attains PFC Rank

Robert R. Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Foley of Andover, recently returned from basic training with the U.S. Army at Fort Knox in Kentucky.

While there he attained the rank of Private First Class and was awarded the High Tank Award for his graduating class. He also won an excellence in tracking award and an excellence in grenade marksmanship award.

Foley is now with the 2nd Armored Division in Fort Hood, Texas. He will be stationed in Germany in the near future.

Holmes State LWV Director

Chris Holmes of Andover has been elected marketing director on the board of directors of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts. She has served as president of the Andover League and is on the town meeting improvement committee and parking committee.

Arlene Stamm, newly elected president of the league, has emphasized the very important role that members of the board play, "The work of the board is to steer the organization along the nonpartisan, but very political, path that makes us effective in dealing with the critical public policy issues which play an important role in the lives of the citizens of the Commonwealth."

Holmes added that the League of Women Voters expects to be very active over the next two years. The league has adopted a two-tier program of action focusing on natural resources and social policy. In the first year the league will work on waste management, lobbying hard to achieve effective handling of solid waste and low-level radioactive waste, plus the cleanup of hazardous waste. In the second year it will focus on programs centering on the family, those affecting women and children, most particularly in the areas of health, education, day care and housing. These are all important issues facing the Commonwealth and ones the league has been following for a number of years.

The League of Women Voters will also be involved in the upcoming elections with its sponsorship of presidential debates, providing nonpartisan information on candidates and helping voters make choices on the many ballot questions that will be before them.

Holmes encouraged anyone interested in government at the local, state or national level to join the League of Women Voters. "It is the best way to be effective on the issues that you care about most," she said.

Tucker Joins Refusnik Cause

Representative Susan Tucker has agreed to symbolically adopt the cause of a "Refusnik family" in the Soviet Union.

"We as legislators are in a unique position to help these Refusniks," she said. "By expressing our concern about their plight, we can let the Soviet Union know how important an issue this is to public office holders in the United States."

Working with the Jewish Community Relations Council of Greater Boston and Action for Soviet Jewry, Tucker will be contacting Soviet officials on a regular basis to urge them to grant an exit visa to a Jewish family that thus far has been denied the right to emigrate.

"For many of the Refusniks the effort to emigrate has resulted in the loss of their jobs and their being subject to harassment and scrutiny by the KGB," Tucker said. "Their only hope of not being further persecuted and being able to leave the Soviet Union is the knowledge that the Western world is watching and is concerned about them."

Tucker will also write to the Refusnik family directly to let them know that Americans care about their situation.

MEET THE NEW
DOCTOR IN TOWN

Hi I'm
Dr. Thomas M. Sheenan
Chiropractor

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

Did you know that becoming certified as a chiropractor requires 4½ years of training, after college.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic must complete over 4,500 hours of classroom instruction and pass several rigid chiropractic board examinations before earning a license. Also, continuing educational seminars must be completed for annual license renewal.

PERSONAL BACKGROUND

I have completed courses in Kinesiology, Exercise Physiology and Physical Therapy, and hold a degree in Biology from Niagara University. While in Chiropractic College, I received awards for Outstanding Service as well as High Honor roll. I have also visited a number of other chiropractic clinics to study their methods and procedures in Kansas City, Mo.; New York; Atlanta and Wichita, Kans.

Additionally, I attend seminars held monthly in Atlanta and Chicago, to stay current on the latest chiropractic advances.

This is the kind of training and professionalism I offer you. If you have hesitated visiting a chiropractor, perhaps you didn't know that chiropractors go to such great lengths to continue their education and provide you with the latest techniques and the most qualified service. So, you see, what you don't know can't help you.

Call me today and let me help you.

Did you know the symptoms most commonly treated by chiropractors are:

National Peace Group Attracts Local Members

By Lewis C. Howe

Carol DeLeire of Andover said she has been involved in "a lot of peace activities" through the years, but Beyond War is the first organization she ever joined.

"It's a group that actively participates and does something about a crying need in the world," DeLeire said. "It's so easy to be only involved in your personal daily crises, without realizing the world could be having its own crisis."

Beyond War is a non-profit educational foundation dedicated to achieving non-violent resolutions to worldwide conflict. Jane Cadarette of North Andover, a Beyond War organizer for the Greater Lawrence area, summed up the group's philosophy in the phrase: "War doesn't work anymore."

In a world with nuclear weapons, Cadarette remarked, even the limited use of an atomic arsenal "will destroy the planet."

Nations, Cadarette stated, "must stop thinking of war as an option" to their disputes. "We must learn to resolve conflict without the use of violence," she stressed.

Beyond War views countries as being "interdependent and interconnected," Cadarette said. "We are one people in the world," she commented, "we must break away from our boundaries."

By teaching people to "think in a new way,"—that war must never happen—the 10,000-member nationwide coalition hopes to accomplish three goals, Cadarette said. "The short-term goal," she stated, "is to create a national assumption that war is obsolete." This does not involve "changing people's minds," the activist said, but "helping people to realize what they already know: war doesn't work anymore."

The moderate-term goal described by Cadarette is to move the United States "beyond war" in its foreign policy, which she said leads into the long-term goal of having other nations follow suit, resulting in world peace.

Beyond War gets its message to people through community seminars and presentations. "People will invite us to their homes, churches or local groups to speak with them," Cadarette explained. Last year, for example, Beyond War presented a symposium on Central America at Andover's Christ Church.

The group's seminars consist of a discussion of their philosophy, videotapes and other presentations, and distribution of their newsletter, "On Beyond War."

The California-headquartered foundation also sponsors annual awards to those it deems to have done the most to further peace. Last year's winners were the Contadora group, which professes to work for a peaceable conclusion to the fighting in Central America. The awards ceremony is televised live throughout the Western Hemisphere and viewed by more than 20 million people, according to Beyond War estimates.

Locally, Cadarette recently hosted a seminar called "Making a Decision About War: the Challenge of the 1988 Election." She emphasized the organization "does not endorse candidates, only ideas."

Cadarette said the Greater Lawrence membership plans to focus its attention on the Salem, N.H. area in the upcoming months. "It's a key primary state," she commented, adding the group will be trying to persuade residents of southern New Hampshire to consider peace not just as an option, but as the only option in a nuclear age.

DeLeire stressed "we primarily need to educate people on the danger and possibility" of war. She said her working with Beyond War gives her hope for peace.

Raytheon Awarded Large Contract

Raytheon Co. has been awarded a contract for a large research and development project.

The U.S. Navy's Sea Systems Command named the company's missile system division the winner of the competition for design and development of the Standard Missile 2, Block IV, also known as the AEGIS extended range version of the Standard Missile.

Raytheon was awarded $231 million as design agent. Design and development activities will be carried out at its missile systems division laboratories in Bedford and at the division's manufacturing facility in Bristol, Tenn., where Raytheon is currently qualifying as second-source producer of the present versions of the Standard Missile.

Under terms of the contract, Raytheon will award a major subcontract to General Dynamics Corporation of Pomona, Calif., which will act as co-developer for portions of the missile's guidance and control system. Major subcontracts will also go to the chemical systems division of United Technologies Corporation, San Jose, Calif., and Morton-Thiokol, Huntsville, Ala., for development of the missile's booster rocket motor.

Design and development on this contract will continue over the next several years. It will be followed by a pilot production contract in the amount of $251 million, which is an option to the current contract. Raytheon and General Dynamics will then compete for the major portion of follow-on production awards.

Dennis J. Picard, Raytheon senior vice president and missile systems division general manager, said that "this award is a major accomplishment for Raytheon. We intend to fulfill the Navy's requirements for an extended range fleet air-defense system for the 1990s and beyond. The new R&D program provides our engineering team with a significant creative challenge."

AT OUR SCHOOLS

How A Kiosk Got In The Bank

By Susan K. O'Neill

Hurry, hurry—don't miss the last appearance of the great Collaborative School Project kiosk.

Actually, in its current place of honor in the Andover Bank lobby, it's pretty hard to miss. The kiosk stands eight feet tall and four feet wide and thick; its four black masonite panels are covered with little white squares that, together, form eight-foot silhouettes of boys and girls.

Each square is an Andover or Lawrence student's entry in a recent logo contest for the new collaborative school which, when built in 1990, will serve elementary-school kids from both communities.

A great piece of publicity, that kiosk. It was supposed to travel from spot to spot in Lawrence and Andover for display.

That was the plan. This traveling goodwill ambassador was built by Dennis Richards, the collaborative project's coordinator. He built it to last through several moves.

He built it to last forever.

Which is, ironically, why the kiosk's traveling days are numbered.

At first, Dennis broke the structure down, transported it and set it up—twice: at the Andover YMCA and at the Lawrence Public Library. A couple of weeks ago, he decided that the task had become a burden.

Being suckers for a good PR gimmick, Lawrence resident Joan Bernard and I volunteered to transport the thing.

And so, we met at the Lawrence Library last week—Joan with her van and I with a list of directions Dennis had given me for taking the kiosk apart.

A long, long list of directions.

First, Joan and I pried off the stripping that had been nailed over the corners where the panels joined. Beneath it, we found the screws that held the outside to the frame.

Screws. And more screws. And more screws.

Ah, that Dennis. What a stickler for detail.

We called for help.

The janitor removed the screws. All of them. But the panels stayed locked to the frame.

Magic? No. Wing nuts. Top and bottom, all four sides.

Together, the janitor and Joan tipped the unwieldy kiosk back so I could detach a bottom nut. Then the janitor squeezed under the freed panel bottom and took the thing apart from the inside.

At last, it was broken down. We hauled the inner frame out to the van.

The frame almost fit. Almost. The janitor, my hero, stood on the tire-tops and lashed each side down by one corner, using two short pieces of rope (I'd found them in

Robert M. Henderson, president of Andover Bank on Main Street, stands beside the Andover/Lawrence Collaborative School kiosk which is on display until August 27 in the bank's lobby. The kiosk features entries from more than 200 Andover and Lawrence elementary school students in the project's recent logo design contest.

New Day Care Program Starts In Fall

The Christ Church Nursery School has changed its name to the Christ Church Children's Center, and with that change comes an expansion of services, said its director, Marilyn Johnson.

The school is starting a day care program in September, which will run five days a week year round, from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. The cost is $21 a day and will accept children ages 2 years and 9 months to 5 years.

Johnson said the program is a response to a growing need in Andover. She said she gets calls up to two years in advance for enrollment in the nursery school program.

"We kept getting calls, and we had no space for the people. And we spoke with other child care programs in town, and they said, 'We just haven't got the space,'" she said. "Part of it was determining if there was a need (for a day care program), and we found that there was."

Johnson said the number of nursery school sessions has doubled—from two to four—in the two years she's been at the center.

When the Professional Handicapped Nursery moved out of Christ Church in February, Johnson's staff got the necessary approval for using the space for child care. Building codes prevent the center from accepting infants and toddlers, she said.

The Children's Center pays rent to Christ Church for the space it uses. But it is not a church-based program and has its own board of directors. Funding comes primarily from tuition, Johnson said, although the center has received grants in the past.

Johnson said she is in the process of applying for a voucher that would make scholarship money available to parents.

"We don't want to shut anyone out," she said.

Sullivan Awarded RPI Medal

Lisa Marie Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sullivan, 39 Marilyn Road, has been awarded the Rensselaer Medal from Renssaler Polytechnic Institute.

Sullivan, a member of the Andover High School class of 1988, was among 1,700 high school juniors nationwide to be recognized by RPI for outstanding achievement in mathematics and science.

RPI is a university with recognized strength in aeronautics, engineering, robotics and computer science, coupled with considerable depth in science, architecture, management, humanities and the social sciences.

The 6,600-student school presents the Rensselaer Medal annually. RPI was founded in 1824, and was the first university in America to grant degrees in engineering.

Is your "baby" off to school this year? Tuition costs have grown too!

Remember the day you brought the baby home from the hospital? Seems like yesterday, doesn't it? Suddenly, your "baby" is all grown up and ready for college! Are you ready to meet this expense?

You are . . . if you have a Prime Credit account from Arlington Trust Company.

PRIME CREDIT

Prime Credit is a revolving line of credit from $10,000 to $100,000 or more, based on your home equity. Once your credit line has been established, you may use it whenever you need it — for any purpose — simply by writing a special check.

Interest on a Prime Credit account is only 1% annual percentage rate above Arlington Trust Company's monthly Base Rate. And it's deductible under the new tax law. Our current Prime Credit annual percentage rate is 9.25%. * So whether you're facing tuition for private school, prep school, technical school or college, a Prime Credit account from Arlington Trust Company can provide the source of funds to meet these expenses.

Stop by the Arlington Trust Company nearest you to apply for a Prime Credit account today. Or call 681-7215 for more information.

*The annual percentage rate for billing cycles ending August 15, 1987 is based on the Arlington Trust Company Base Rate of 8.25% on August 1, 1987. The annual percentage rate is subject to change in subsequent billing cycles.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Bibs come in a variety of shapes and sizes. For the newborn, a cotton bib is recommended. Besides being a natural fiber, it is very absorbent. Later on you may want to buy plastic bibs. When purchasing bibs, look at the closing. Tie bibs are superior to snap bibs because they are more adjustable. A snap closure that is too tight for your child is uncomfortable and could cause a sore from rubbing. Be alert for any signs of sensitivity to coloring or sizing in fabrics.

Arts Groups Get Grants

The Andover Arts Lottery Council announces that the following grants have been awarded for the July 1987 funding cycle through certification by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery Council: $500 to the Bancroft School PTO to help support artist-in-residence program; $500 to the Sanborn School PTO to support workshop on the art to storytelling; $200 to the Andover Artists' Guild, Inc. to support purchase of easels to display art work; $250 to Andover Choral Society to help support production for concert for Andover community; $500 to Andover Historical Society to support publication of informative brochure; $800 to fine arts department, Andover Public Schools, to provide transportation funds for Andover students to participate in performing arts students series; $200 to Andover Housing Authority to support fine art instruction for Andover senior citizens; $510 to Department of Community Services to support summer concert program and family film program; $1000 to the trustees of Memorial Hall Library to support purchase of art work for new children's room.

The Massachusetts Arts Lottery Council was also endowed by the Legislature to distribute $1 million from the "Megabucks" lottery game to local and regional arts lottery councils in order to provide funds for public school children to attend performing arts events at a ticket price not to exceed $5. $2,045 was awarded to the Andover fine arts department to enable students to participate in the performing arts students series.

The MALC will distribute monies in January 1988 in its 11th funding cycle to local arts councils. The Andover Arts Lottery Council is accepting applications for this funding. Deadline for application submission is October 2.

Applications will be reviewed on October 7. This program, supported in part by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery and administered by local councils, is aimed to encourage and support the promotion of the arts in Massachusetts. For further information regarding application procedures, contact Selma Flieger at the Department of Community Services.

Resident Craft Show Participant

Elizabeth Sarracino of Andover will be among the 55 juried craftspeople who will participate in the 15th Annual Craft Fair at the Wenham Museum, Route 1A in Wenham, this Saturday, August 15.

Sarracino's craft is Pysanki, the 2,000-year-old art of Ukrainian egg decorating. Each of the colorful eggs tells a story, with each symbol used to decorate them taking on a special significance.

Joyce Cooper of North Andover will also participate at the fair. She practices the art of decoupage, which is the process of decorating surfaces with applied paper cutouts. Cooper will display and sell an assortment of boxes and Christmas ornaments.

Other craftsmen will demonstrate and sell wood carving, handpainted clothing, blacksmithing, country painting, jewelry, weaving, pottery, decoupage, herbal items, knitted items, blown glass, baskets, dolls, soft sculpture, stained glass, Pysanki, and much more.

Other popular features of the fair will include plant and gourmet food tables, and crafts made by local museum members.

The Snack Bar will be open all day, serving coffee and doughnuts in the morning and a sandwich lunch.

Fair goers may also visit the museum to view the summer exhibit, "Dressed to Kill—Dolls with Original Wardrobes, 1830-1960," as well as the world-famous doll collection and 17th century Claflin-Richards House.

The museum is located at 132 Main St. (Route 1A) in Wenham.

Awarded Degrees At Middlebury

Three Andover students received bachelor of arts degrees from Middlebury College in Middlebury, Vt., at the school's 187th commencement exercises in May.

Joel E. Brother, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Brother of 52 Sagamore Drive, was awarded a degree in both political science and Spanish.

Janice A. Gable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Gable of 27 Wildwood Road, received a degree in Spanish.

And Ann M. Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gilmore of 109 Dascomb Road, received her degree in English.

McNulty At Training Program

Board member Francis A. McNulty of the Andover Housing Authority recently received a certificate honoring his completion of the two-and-a-half day Commissioners Training Program (CTP) by Tufts University which took place at the C.U.I. Training and Conference Center in Wenham. Thirty-eight housing authority commissioners from 33 local agencies throughout the Commonwealth attended the session. Approximately 430 commissioners have taken one of the nine such programs offered over the past three years. Tufts has also offered advanced classes in finance, development and modernization for those commissioners who have completed the two-and-a-half day course.

This is the third year of the Commissioners Training Program, part of the Center for Management and Community Development which is affiliated with the Center for Public Service and the Department of Urban and Environmental Policy at Tufts. The program is supported by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Communities and Development. The CTP is directed by James Stockard, a public housing authority commissioner for 12 years and an adjunct associate professor at Tufts.

Stockard pointed out that there are 242 housing authorities in Massachusetts (nearly 10 percent of all those in the nation) and more than 1,200 commissioners who set policy for these agencies. "Yet many of these dedicated local public servants have never really had an opportunity to learn more about what is expected of them, to find out about some of the technical aspects of the agencies they guide and to discuss some of the issues they face with other commissioners."

The CTP is the first program designed specifically for Massachusetts housing authority commissioners to assist them in improving the policy making at their agencies. The program focused on the role of the commissioner and included such general topics as the history of public housing and programs available for public housing and the conduct of good meetings. The commissioners discussed more specific topics including finance, management and maintenance, personnel, tenant selection, development, modernization and advocacy.

The program's goal is to help commissioners work closely with their executive directors to provide good quality housing for the people their housing authorities serve.

McNulty reported that the training session was most valuable and very helpful in carrying out the work as commissioner with the Andover Housing Authority.

Last Weekend For Production

Friday and Saturday are the final days to see the Andover Theatre Company's production of "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." The well-known musical will be presented at 8 p.m. each night at Memorial Hall Auditorium, Doherty Junior High School, Bartlet Street, Andover.

Actors from local towns appear in this tale of a peaceful Texas town that is suddenly the focus of attention when a TV evangelist determines to close down the local "house of ill repute."

Robin Redman of North Andover appears as Miss Mona, the proprietor of the house. Andover resident Ben Pascussi plays Sheriff Ed Earl. Other Andover and North Andover residents are Dianne DeLucia, Laura Galper, Jim Hanson, Bill Joubert, Rich McManus, Michelina O'Day, Alice Pascussi, Laurie Sevelle, Christina Smith and Jane Vondell.

The musical was written by Larry King and Peter Masterson with music by Carol Hall.

Lawrence resident Dennis Lorne is the director; producer is Ellen Zipeto and musical director is John Zipeto, both of Andover.

Tickets are available at the door or from The Butler's Pantry, Barnard Street, Andover.

The Andover Theatre Company operates in conjunction with Andover's Department of Community Services.

When you, and your loved one, need time off

The Guest Program at Saint Joseph's Hospital provides temporary, supervised health care for a loved one who is aged, disabled or socially dependent.

If you are a son, daughter or parent caring for someone at home, you know that love alone cannot solve all the problems. Sometimes you both simply need time off.

Available seven days a week, around the clock, the Guest Program provides special care, including treatments, medications and physician involvement if necessary. Volunteer staff offer support and companionship.

Tasty meals, TV, telephone and recreational activities are included in the program's reasonable price.

So when you both need time off—for a vacation or a weekend—let us care for your loved one. For more information, call Saint Joseph's Hospital at (617) 453-1761, Ext. 1844.

Solomont Scholarship Awarded

The Solomont Family Nursing Scholarship awarded annually by the University of Lowell's College of Health Professions for outstanding promise by a nursing baccalaureate candidate was presented to Maureen O'Gorman of Walpole, Class of 1988.

The Solomont family organization, which owns and manages long-term care and retirement facilities, including Andover's Academy Manor Nursing Home, initiated the annual scholarship with a grant to the university in 1986.

The College of Health Professions' Scholarship and Awards Committee, which consists of faculty members, joined by a member of the Solomont family, selects the student whose performance shows "outstanding promise for a successful career in nursing. The committee also considers financial need.

H-P Gets Achievement Award

Hewlett-Packard, Minuteman Road, won one of several awards for significant achievement in major medical electronics.

SAMMEs, presented July 28 during the American Hospital Association convention in Atlanta, salute medical manufacturers for advances in medical technology which have improved patient care and reduced soaring healthcare costs.

Hewlett-Packard received a SAMME for the Revision K, a specialized piece of medical equipment that can be successfully fit to an existing ultrasound device. With the Revision K, hospitals can acquire the latest in ultrasound technology without investing up to $180,000 in new capital equipment.

By enabling physicians to view blood flowing through the heart in color, color-flow Doppler replaces surgery and radiation in detecting many congenital heart diseases.

Radio Days

The Division of Continuing Education at Beverly's North Shore Community College will offer "The Golden Age of Radio," a nostalgic escape and historical insight into "thrilling days of yesteryear" in a six-session Thursday evening class beginning in September.

Taught by Peabody attorney and old-time radio buff John Abizaid, the class features actual broadcasts from his extensive tape and record collection. Each week will be devoted to a different category of broadcast: comedy, mystery, soap opera, news and drama.

Mail-in deadline is August 22. Enrollments will be accepted thereafter on a space-available basis.

All the kids at Bancroft Playground used their imaginations on Monday in making clay creatures. Robby Piantoni made an awesome "Mr. Bill." Alison Monroe made her very own "Gumby" as well as a flower basket while Carli O'Brien showed off her creativity when making "Mr. O." Each year the Andover playgrounds go to Crane's Beach to compete in a sand-building contest. On Tuesday they built the "Andover Aquarium," containing an octopus, a fierce shark, a giant turtle and starfish and numerous colorful fish. The highlight was a large red crab done by Bancroft. The Bancrofters, such as Matt Cole, Lisa Evans, Cris and Stephanie Brown and Eileen Sweeney, worked diligently on this masterpiece. Dan Trede, Mark Cutler, Brad McCue and Matt Trede were the "he-men" of the beach, strutting around flexing their muscles. Rudy and Tony Morando spent so much time wallowing in the water while Julie Cutler was soaking up the rays, and Patrick and Kevin Hess put the finishing touches on the aquarium. Wednesday was loads of fun, especially making salt jar creations. Lisa Evans and Jen Lane spent most of their day perfecting their creations. MaryBeth Nunan used the chalk to color the salt to just the right shades in the making of her salt jar. Stephen and Allen Mackey worked together in making their jars; both came out with original and super creations.

Pennacook

The fifth and final week as an exciting at Pennacook Park. The campers got a look at some old Andover artifacts at the Amos Blanchard Museum. A special thanks to the Andover Historical Society for a wonderful tour. Wednesday started with the annual mini-olympics. Alicia Rosenbaum, Glenn MacVicar and Denise Carriere won gold medals and Julie Sullivan, Amy Griffin and Shelly Cogger won silver medals. Then it was pizza time. The campers ladled the sauce, sprinkled the cheese and sliced the bread, then watched the cheese brown until the pizza was done. Thursday was a treasure hunt. Everyone found a special prize that will forever remind them of the summer of 1987 at Pennacook Park. The summer session wrapped up with a cookout for campers and parents. Patrick Hamilton, Toniann Rougier and Kristin Vandervoort of the staff, wishes the campers a happy and safe school year and will be thinking of them.

Shee-Hee/Shaw-Nee

The week started with a rainy day. The time was passed coloring, some neat balloon faces, popcorn and cartoons. It was Laura Goldstein's third birthday and Laura's mom brought birthday cupcakes. Everyone became great sculptors on Tuesday with fun dough mixed by Toniann Rougier, Kim Wilkins and Melanie Prugh. Joshua Slovin's great green blob, the staff's teddy bears, Eric Chute's hot dog, Sarah Henry's chocolate covered donut and Alex McDonald's ice cream were all a big hit. Everyone's birthday was celebrated on Wednesday with paper crowns, lots of balloons, presents for all, cupcakes, popcorn and goodies. The Pin the tail on the Cat game kept everyone busy with Christopher Lotto coming closest for the Shee-Hees and Julie Barenholtz winning the prize for the Shaw-Nees. Everyone played duck-duck-goose and had lots of fun. The Shawsheen School playgrounds made wooden masterpieces on Thursday by gluing dowels, shapes, clothespins and popsicle sticks to paper in autumn shades. Some Shaw-Nee creations were Brian Tasker's fancy boat, Tina Jett's tower and Caitlin's village, Mary Palumbo's bowling lane, a "what-chamacallit" by Calley Sullivan and Toniann, the obstacle course by Christine Smaglia and Joshua Slovin's patriotic colored balls and stick things. The Shee-Hees and Shaw-Nees gathered in the playground on Friday and counted to three with Toniann before letting their prized balloons sail away with a cry of "Fly and be free!" If anyone finds the balloons, let them know where and when they were found.

Ha-Kow-Wee

The week started with colorful enamel jewelry creations. Stephanie Ciampa, Carroll Cunningham, Stephanie Buck and Kim Brewer made some earrings and charms. Shaun Flynn made some turtles to add to his collection. Despite the rain, Sean Barry, David Sullivan, Sabine Barry and Dan Martineau had a great game of kickball. Tuesday the sun was shining for the annual trip to Crane's Beach. Julie DiBlasi, Richard Sullivan, Jennifer Buck, Brad Belisle, Jeff Irving, Jason and Leanne Shaw and Rachel Tasker helped made the sand-sculpture aquarium. Those still at camp played basketball and a practical joke. They took all the furniture out of the building so it was empty. What a surprise to come home to! Philip and Julie DiBlasi, David Sullivan and Craig Hartwell played a game of tennis on Wednesday while Richard Sullivan swung on the gate door—his favorite pastime. Heather Tessier was one of the many who created colorful bead necklaces, bracelets and anklets. Everyone came to camp on Thursday in pajamas with pillows and stuffed animals to enjoy a pancake breakfast. It was like a typical Saturday morning as everyone watched cartoons and ate breakfast. Andrew Owen, Christie Cunningham and Chris McNulty were champion pillow fighters. Samantha Fee and David and Lydia Mittelman brought their stuffed animals and dolls to the stuffed animal contest. Lunches were eaten while listening to tales of adventure during storytime. Everyone did well in the competition on Friday's Poms Pond Fun Day.

Sanborn

A rainy Monday kept Sanborn occupied with indoor activities such as coloring, "Hangman" and board games. Newcomer Laura Diamondis and Elaine Yee found several jigsaw puzzles to be challenging. Jeremy Schofield and Tommy Clark urged everyone to go outside for a game of kickball. Tuesday was a perfect day for Crane's Beach as Scott Chicarello, Jason and David Gillespie, Elaine and Justin Yee, Meredith, Allyson and Jonathan Schweig discovered. Elaine searched for a variety of shells while the others played in the sand and water. Scott found the water to be a bit on the cold side. Sanborn made a ferocious shark for the the Andover aquarium, thanks to the artistic help of Jason, Jonathan, Allyson and Meredith. Eric and Joe Shea were the stars of a baseball game on Wednesday. Andrea Martin and Penny Schofield were the most enthusiastic "Blob Tay" players. Paints were a hit as Jason, Shannon Breen, Sarah Martin and Elizabeth Bigelow made rocks and seashells a lot more colorful. Everyone tried their hand at "Black Magic" scratch boards with David Payne, Candy Ellis and Justin Yee making some really neat artwork. Everyone's birthday was celebrated on Thursday. Musical chairs and wonderball started the day. Sera Coppolino, Elizabeth Bigelow, Jessica Puccia and Suzanne Leonard were champions. Party bags were decorated and everyone hunted for some neat trinkets to fill them. Shannon, Melissa Portorreal and Laura made great discoveries. Kathleen's cupcakes were treats to cover with frosting, jimmies, marshmallows and nuts. The guys pitched many innings for a baseball game. Jeremy, J.P. Cimpio, Joe Shea and Brian Croteau were outstanding players. Friday was Poms Pond Fun Day.

South

Despite the dreary weather on Monday, some daring playgrounders participated in an exciting game of football. Some of the outstanding players were Zachary Smith, Dan Mooney, Joshua Hancock, Marc Escott, Michelle Doucette, Brendan Sheehy, Craig Edwards and Julie Boland. The smart ones were staying dry and doing Black Magic. Those included Jackie Escott, Michelle Lord, Nicole Giammassi, Maura Collins, Marc Edwards and Abbi Hermosa. Tuesday was the perfect beach day. Saira Hermosa, Jen and Sean Aylward, John and Paul Sibelle, Vanessa Scarbeau, Colleen, Tim and Mike Sheehy, Tanielle Smith, Suzanne Doucette, Leanne and Michelle Mills, David Charland, Erin Collins and Scott Riese went to Crane's Beach to participate in the annual sand castle building contest. Wednesday's activities included paper airplane flying contests with Eric Milligan showing how its really done. Jen and Beth Schapira, Jen Murnane, Chris Lustig and Laurie LaPlante created key chains. Scott Friese and Marc Escott reigned supreme in chickenfights. Thursday was the annual pizza day with Christi Conner, Chris Marchetti, Allen Soong, Tommy Froburg, Lee Farr, Rocky Tradd, C.J. Dodd, Melanie and Mark McGarry and Ryan Evans having their fill. The playground closed on Friday for Poms Pond Fun Day and everyone enjoyed the festivities.

Committee Takes Step Toward Fair Housing Initiatives

By Karen L. Day

The Regional Housing Fair Share Planning Committee, (RHFSPC), which includes representatives of Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence, has applied for a $45,000 grant from the state Executive Office of Communities and Development, (EOCD), for implementation of regional fair housing initiatives.

The Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, (MCAD), ruled in 1980 that Andover must develop a fair housing policy and plan. In response, the Board of Selectmen adopted the Civil Rights Act of 1968 and the Housing and Community Development Act of 1975 which prohibited discrimination in housing, and began developing a town-wide plan.

In 1982, the Andover plan was accepted by the MCAD, which in 1984 decided regional needs were not being met by the individual communities' plans. Thus, the four communities and Dracut, which has since dropped out of this particular committee, formed the RHFSPC.

According to town Physical Planner Stephen Colyer, Andover Fair Housing coordinator and regional delegate to the RHFSPC, when the regional committee was formed, the other communities were not pleased with Andover's contributions. "We'd get slammed," he said, "because we were 'snobs'."

But over the last several years, Andover has made a concerted effort to contribute in the fair housing effort, he added, both individually and as part of the regional effort.

Individually, Andover has created a data base of housing statistics and population profiles. These were eventually submitted to the regional committee's data base as well.

In 1985, the local Fair Housing Committee began looking at sites for affordable housing development. At this year's annual town meeting voters backed warrant articles to obtain the Champy/Shetland and Perkins/Stevens properties for such development. Plans for the Champy/Shetland property may involve a joint effort with Lawrence.

Also in 1985, a plan for a multi-family buffer zone surrounding the central business district was completed by the Andover Planning Board, but related articles did not survive a vote before town meeting.

The following year, 1986, saw the advent of the comprehensive permit in Andover, allowing developers to by-pass the zoning bylaws if a certain percentage of units were dedicated to affordable housing and affirmative action. Andover officially submitted an application to become a Housing Partnership Community. This status makes the town eligible to receive funds for affordable housing projects.

Over the years, Andover has submitted applications for various strategic planning grants, but has almost always been turned down. Early in 1987, though, two Municipal Assistance Planning grants of $20,000 each were awarded the town. This money is to be used in the development of Requests for Proposals (RFPs) for the two affordable housing parcels obtained by the town.

Andover has been commended by EOCD Secretary Amy Anthony for commitment to affordable housing, has been named a Housing

Fair Housing

Partnership Community and a Development Community.

In the past, Andover had been "riding the line" in the MCAD's eyes, and if the town did not take action toward meeting fair housing needs and requirements, could have been issued an Executive Order 215. Colyer was quick to point out that there have been—and still are—many communities in the same position.

The issuance of such an order would prohibit the town from receiving both state and federal grants for municipal work, said Colyer. "It's just not something you can pay lip service to," he stated. The town may have appeared to have ignored its fair housing responsibilities over the last few years, since town meeting has voted down articles that would have created multi-family zones, increased density of a neighborhood, or given density bonuses to developers who pledged a certain portion of their development to affordable housing.

"The best thing the town did," said Colyer, "was to take the two parcels" at the last town meeting for affordable housing. "Now if we don't do anything with them..." he added, the MCAD may take it as a return of the town to exclusionary practices. If this happens, the town again risks receiving an Executive Order 215.

According to Budget and Finance Director Anthony Torrisi, "You're talking about (the loss of) millions of dollars on capital projects," and many "smaller grants for enhancements and self-help."

The capital projects grants include funding for projects like the Riverina Road pumping station (approximately $4 million) and the new Water Treatment Plant (about $6 million). Andover public schools are often the recipient of the smaller enhancement grants. Over the years, the town has also received about $200,000 in self-help grants for conservation land acquisition.

The town is not simply following the MCAD orders to obtain funds, Torrisi said. He then added town officials have made a real commitment to the premise that it is a community responsibility to provide fair and affordable housing, regardless "of race, sex, color, religion or national origin."

According to Colyer, the MCAD's chief aim in the region is to disperse the concentration of minorities and those needing assisted-housing in Lawrence throughout the rest of the region.

Although the creation of housing these groups can afford is the most prevalent problem, there is yet another less obvious obstacle—finding members of these groups who are willing to move.

Many minority groups live in small subcommunities with others of their heritage, Colyer said. The majority would rather stay where they are than move to a neighborhood where they fear there will be a lack of acceptance, he said.

"It's a tough nut to crack," Colyer stated, but the regional committee is beginning to make progress toward the implementation of their programs.

The $45,600 grant that the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission, (MVPC), applied for on behalf of the RHFSPC would allow for the establishment of a regional housing partnership and the execution of a Regional Housing Compact. The Regional Housing Compact would bind each of the four communities to actively addressing the regional housing needs, especially those of Lawrence.

All four have contributed needs and population profile information about their communities into a regional data base and will proceed to identify and act in the areas of marketing and mobility, affordable housing and the promotion of inclusionary zoning.

Although Andover has rarely been able to obtain grants on its own, Colyer believes the strength of the regional effort will be recognized by the EOCD, and the agency will encourage the implementation of the RHFSPC's plans by awarding the grant to the group.

Andover, Methuen and North Andover have each put up $750, and Lawrence has put up the remaining $2,750, for a total of $5,000 in an effort to show the state "good faith". These contributions are refundable to the communities if the grant is awarded through the MVPC. The four have also pledged a total of $2,000 worth of in-kind services such as municipal staff time.

Combine the "good faith" pledges with the progress made by the regional committee over the last couple of years, said Colyer, and "We have a good shot at it (getting the grant) this year."

Painted Quilt Touring Lowell

The Merrimack Repertory Theatre is sending a painted quilt on a tour of Lowell. The quilt was made during the first session of the Merrimack Youth Theatre this summer.

Andover residents Sasha Nelken, Beth Segal, Melanie Spencer and Rebecca Thyresson helped make the "Friendship Quilt of Dreams," each square of which was designed and executed by program participants, ages 6 to 16. The squares, done in acrylic paints, answer the question: "If money were no object, what would you want?"

The kids' solutions, which resulted in a 97-by-80 inch object d'art, can be viewed at the New England Quilt Museum, Market Mills, Aug. 15 to Sept. 7; the Lowell Public Library Sept. 7 to Oct. 12; George's Textiles, 360 Merrimack St., Oct. 12 to Nov. 16; the Craft Tower in Dracut, Nov. 16 to Dec. 21; the Merrimack Repertory Theatre, Liberty Hall, 50 E. Merrimack St., Dec. 21 to Jan. 4; Lowell City Hall, Jan. 4 to Feb. 1; Brush With History, Market Mills, Feb. 1 to 26; and the Center for the Performing and Visual Arts on the University of Lowell's South Campus, Feb. 26 to March 21.

Explorers Learn Of New England

The children at the Li'l Red Schoolhouse Explorer's Program have been learning about New England in the Tewksbury school's summer enrichment program.

Learning units have been enhanced with kits from the Boston Children's Museum along with weekly field trips to such places as the Lowell canals and city, Harold Parker State Forest, Essex Agricultural College and the Andover Historical Society's Barn Museum.

The children are planning a fair for their parents and friends as a way of wrapping up their studies on New England farm life.

The last session, August 17 to September 4, will be spent studying the New England seashore with trips to the beach and the New England Aquarium.

A few positions are available for that session.

Programs

The Metropolitan District Commission's Reservations and Interpretive Services Unit offers free daily programs on Georges and Lovells Island.

Saturday, Aug. 22, is Harbor Pollution Awareness Day. This program centers on the problems associated with the pollution of Boston Harbor. There will be activities and displays focusing on the use and abuse of the harbor from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sunday, Aug. 23, is Edward Rowe Snow Day on Georges Island from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Snow was New England's foremost sea-coast writer.

Bridge Over Troubled Asphalt

The replacement of the deck of the I-495 bridge over Haggetts Pond Road will improve safety and provide a smoother ride for motorists, according to the state Department of Public Works.

That's the good news.

The bad news is that only two lanes of traffic will remain open at a time, causing clog ups during rush hour. After the two left lanes of the bridge deck have been reconstructed, work will move to the two right lanes.

The construction started in July and will finish by November. The contractor for the $1 million project is Kodiak Corp. of Salem, N.H.

Bridge work on I-495 is also going on over Massachusetts Avenue in North Andover and over Route 114 in Lawrence. Public Works expects both of those projects to be completed in November.

Appointed Assistant Dean

Brother Daniel E. Skala, C.F.X. has been appointed assistant dean of continuing education at Merrimack College.

The Division of Continuing Education offers credit and non-credit courses in the evening, on weekends and in the summer and coordinates daytime programs for adult students. In his new position, Skala will assist Justine F. Juarez, associate dean, in the planning and coordination of the division's programs.

A native of Springfield, Skala professed vows as a member of the Congregation of St. Francis Xavier (the Xaverian Brothers) in 1970. A graduate of Suffolk University, he holds a master's degree in English from Boston College and is a doctoral candidate in educational leadership at Boston College.

Skala taught English and religious studies at Malden Catholic High School from 1972 to 1979, chairing the English department from 1976 to 1979. From 1979 to 1982 he served as the school's associated headmaster, directing the academic program and coordinating the admissions and public relations efforts.

Skala was named assistant to the director of the catholic leadership program at Boston College in 1982. The following year he became coordinator of the secondary teaching programs of Boston College's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education. He also served as a lecturer in the English department, teaching critical reading and writing.

Horizons Suggests Summer Activities

Horizons For Youth, an organization that provides outdoor education and camping programs for disadvantaged youngsters, offers the following creative and interesting activities adults can do with youngsters to relieve summer doldrums.

- Make a map of your backyard or local park and distinguish the natural things from those that are man-made.

- Make a "natural" masterpiece by placing a piece of paper against the bark of a tree. Rub a crayon on the paper for a unique bark rubbing. Rub grass, flowers or plants on the paper to add color for an original work of art.

- Hunt for four-leaf clovers.

- Attract birds by making a bird feeder. Find a pinecone and tie a string around it so it can be hung. Then smear the pinecone with peanut butter. Hang it up and watch the birds have a feast.

- Grow a "garbage" garden. Save carrot tops, potato eyes, citurs and apple seeds, avocado pits, etc. Plant them in containers, water and watch them grow. Later, they can be transplanted into the ground.

- Spend some lazy time cloud-gazing and imagine a lamb, man or anything else you may see.

- On a sunny day, try "shadowing" with a partner. Cast your shadow on the pavement and have a friend draw around the outline with some chalk. Repeat in other spots with shadows of all kinds of things.

- Go to a very dark place outside and listen to all the different night sounds and try to identify as many as you can.

- Select a bird or animal that lives in your backyard or local park and see if you can identify the means for its survival.

Circus Students Show Talent

The children of the Circus Skills and Clown Alley courses joined together for a fabulous presentation of skills and clownery. The show began at 11 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 7, in the West Elementary School auditorium. It was enjoyed by parents and children of all ages.

Dave Nichols was the teacher of Circus Skills and Mrs. Nancy Stewart was the teacher of Clown Alley. The ages of these classes range from grades K-4.

The classes put on six short skits which included walking on stilts and juggling with performing clowns in the background. Then they moved the audience over to the gym where they put on their big top performance. We were extremely impressed by their show.

(By Kristen Nelson and Sara Cooper of the Kaleidoscope newspaper, "Kaleido-News").

In 1984 it became illegal for cab drivers in Greece to chat with their fares.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chuha, Jr.

Chuha-Durling

TeriLyn Durling, daughter of Arthur and Sandra Durling, of 161 Woburn St., and Stephen Carl Chuha, Jr., son of Steven and Joan Chuha of Malden, were married April 25 at Christ Church.

The Rev. Andrew Hammersley officiated.

Maid of honor was Judy Nee of Wilmington. Bridesmaids were Diane and Kristi Chuha of Malden, sisters of the groom, Kris Walsh of Chevy Chase, Md., and Karen English of Lexington, the bride's cousin.

Best man was Tom Boyce of Malden. Ushers were David Chuha of Malden, brother of the groom, Ray and Craig Durling of Andover, brothers of the bride, and Bob Brown of Malden.

Music was provided by organist Earl Miller and vocalist Susan Youngbluth, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a Victorian style satin wedding gown with long, tapered sleeves and a high neck. The fitted bodice was adorned with iridescent sequins, as was the lace trim of the cathedral length gown.

Her hairpiece was a band of crystals with a pouf of veiling extending to the cathedral length of her train. She carried a bouquet of cascading ivy, white roses and lilies of the valley.

Following a reception at the Royal Sonesta Hotel in Cambridge, the couple took a wedding trip to the Hawaiian islands.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Dean Junior College and is a legal secretary at Latham & Latham PC in Reading. The bridegroom is a principal of Bond Realty Inc. in Malden and Reading.

The couple lives in Reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ritzer

Ritzer-Martellucci

Peggie L. Martellucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Martellucci of 37 Boston Road, and Thomas P. Ritzer, son of Beverly Ritzer of Northfield, Vt., and the late Edward G. Ritzer, were married June 6 at St. Augustine's Church.

Father Richard O'Leary, O.S.A., officiated.

Matron of honor was Beth Malcolm. Bridesmaids were Gina Riley, Pamela Webster, Patricia Riley, Krista Veit and Susan Ritzer. Flower girl was Samantha Ritzer.

Best man was Robert Bartis. Ushers were Andrew Ritzer, Peter Martellucci, David Ritzer, Warren Stuart and Anthony Miller.

Following a reception at the Andover Country Club, the couple took a wedding trip to Florida.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and Fitchburg State College and is a certified public accountant for Moody, O'Sullivan and Co. in North Andover.

The groom is a graduate of Northfield High School in Vermont and Vermont Technical College. He is an engineer for Imaging Technology Inc.

The couple lives in Methuen.

Laura Foley

Laura Foley Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Foley of 12 Shirley Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Laura Eve, to Lt. Paul Anthony Edwards, son of Laura Edwards of Haverhill.

Ms. Foley is a 1983 graduate of Andover High School and received a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Lowell this year.

Lt. Edwards graduated from Haverhill High School in 1981 and from ULowell, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in political science and history, in 1986.

A May, 1988 wedding is planned.

Carolyn Foote

1988 Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Foote of 117 Ballardvale Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn M., to Timothy R. Heffron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Heffron of Woburn.

Ms. Foote graduated from Andover High School in 1981 and Southeastern Massachusetts University in North Dartmouth in 1985. She is an executive secretary at Andover Marriott Hotel.

Mr. Heffron graduated from Woburn High School in 1977 and Wentworth Institute in Boston in 1982.

He is a parts and service coordinator for Crown Lift Trucks in Woburn.

A June 1988 wedding is planned.

Getting Married?: Tell the TOWNSMAN

Forms may be picked up at the TOWNSMAN offices, 89 North Main St., Andover. They must be returned to the office no later than the day of the wedding.

They should be typed or printed clearly and accompanied by phone numbers of either the bride or groom in case the editors have any questions.

Photographs, preferably black and white, may be submitted. Their owners will be able to pick them up any time after date of publication.

The TOWNSMAN publishes wedding and engagement announcements when space is available.

Edith Harris

Edith Harris Engagement Announced

Dr. and Mrs. Peyton Randolph Harris, Jr. of 11 Dorset Circle announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith Randolph, to John Weston Adams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weston Adams of Dedham.

Miss Harris graduated from St. Paul's School in Concord, N.H., and Trinity College in Hartford, Conn. She received a master's degree in clinical social work from Simmons College.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. David L. Luke of New Canaan, Conn., and the late Herbert S. Carter, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Randolph Harris.

Mr. Adams graduated from the Noble and Greenough School in Dedham. He received a bachelor of science degree from Trinity and a master's degree in electrical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Pierce, the late Mildred Boyd Adams and the late Weston W. Adams. He is the great grandson of Emily Markel Bannard of New York City.

Garden Club Gives Websters Sendoff

As the strains of Vivaldi's "le Quattro Stagioni" wafted through the flower-scented air in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Begg in Andover, Four Seasons Garden Club members and spouses gathered at their first formal garden party.

Pink lemonade, prosciutto-clad melon and snow-pea wrapped shrimp complemented the pink phlox, bee-balm, Betty Prior roses and hybrid loosestrife that flanked the white Chippendale bench at the foot of the garden.

Gardeners' Sendoff

Guests sipped pink champagne and nibbled watercress and cucumber sandwiches while wishing a fond au revoir to Barbara and Jack Webster. Mrs. Webster, a charter member, and her husband are building a new home on the shore in Maryland.

Silver trays of mini crab rolls and bour-sin garnished roast beef on baguette slices were passed by uniformed maids as the Websters were presented with a "Memory Book" recalling highlights of the garden club's 21-year history and Mrs. Webster's active role in them.

While the dessert course of Reine de Saba and Tourte de Fromage Framboises Gloce avec chambord garnished with grapes and kiwi fruit was served, Mrs. Richard Calnan, president, poured.

Mrs. Joseph Saliby, who founded the Four Seasons Garden Club with Mrs. Webster and five former members in 1966, planned and organized the party. She was assisted by Mrs. John Arserio, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Richard Calnan, Mrs. James Salerno, Mrs. Michele Sapuppo and Mrs. Alexander Schott.

String Trios

The Hammond Castle Museum in Gloucester will present Music at Eden's Edge, its resident chamber ensemble, in a concert on Saturday, Aug. 15, at 8:30 p.m.

The string trio will play works of Beethoven, Schubert, Kodaly and Enesco.

LaLeche League Meets Tonight

The gradual transition from breast-feeding to the family dinner table can be accomplished smoothly and instill healthy attitudes about food. Practical information about weaning and family nutrition will be shared when the Andover/North Andover group and the Greater Lawrence group of La Leche League of Massachusetts meet to discuss nutrition and weaning.

Women of Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and surrounding towns are invited to attend Thursday, Aug. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Norma Villareal, 349 South Main St., Andover, and Thursday, Aug. 20, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Clemence Zuccarello, 56 Horseshoe Road, Dracut.

These meetings are the last in the current series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies, pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences.

Each group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, child-birth and child care. La Leche League may be called at any time for immediate help, encouragement and practical suggestions regarding breastfeeding or to obtain the manual, The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding.

MetroParks Offers Free Concerts

Ted Kirk and his big band will be in Hull Saturday at 2 p.m. to entertain crowds at the Bernie King Pavillion on Nantasket Beach, Nantasket Avenue, for free.

Kirk's appearance is part of the Metropolitan District Commission's Neighborhood Concert Series.

The Myron Segal Orchestra will be at the pavillion Sunday at 2 p.m., followed by Frank Sooshan and his dance combo Wednesday, Aug. 19, at the same time.

THE RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY

Japanese Students Join Vigil Honoring Victims Of Hiroshima, Nagasaki

When Christine Darling of 51 Woodland Drive read in the paper that the North Andover People for Peace were staging a candlelight vigil in remembrance of the victims of the bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, she thought it would be a good idea to take company there.

"Company" was Mayumi Ikeguchi, a 21-year-old exchange student who happens to be from Hiroshima.

Satoko Takatuji, 20, of Osaka also attended the vigil, held Aug. 6 on the North Andover Common.

The two women are leaving tomorrow after a month's stay in the United States through the Cultural Homestay Institute.

Each donation center has an attendant on duty to load the trailer, maintain the area and give out tax receipts.

Occasionally, when there is no attendant on duty, someone will donate goods which may be vandalized, stolen or ruined by weather.

Goodwill must send out a special truck to remove the damaged goods and pay a contractor to dispose of

Bus

Merrimack Bus and the state following a commuter forum last month at which area residents lambasted Kaplan for what they termed Merrimack's failure to adequately serve their needs.

Tucker recognizes that the state subsidies are only a temporary solution to the commuting crunch, and she promised "other things are in the works."

The representative said she and State Senator Patricia McGovern (D-Lawrence) are working on gaining state funding for a transportation center, preferably in Lawrence, where city officials have discussed such a facility for years.

"The idea of a giant Park and Ride facility is very much alive" Tucker stated. She explained the proposed Lawrence-area station would consist of a "Load and Go" depot for both bus and train service to Boston, "and a big, clean, well-lighted parking lot."

An alternative location in West Andover is also being examined, Tucker said. To construct a similar facility at that location would require a new train station and new railroad tracks. But, she added, "these things must be done before the reconstruction of the (Boston) Central Artery anyway."

Organ Recital

The summer series of organ recitals at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall continues with Christopher King on Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 8 p.m.

Residents Rebuke Rooms-for-Rent Request

By Karen L. Day

Residents near the central business district protested the proliferation of "rooms-for-rent" and multi-family housing in their neighborhood at the Zoning Board of Appeals regular hearings last Thursday evening.

Ellsworth P. Long, 9 Howell Drive, had petitioned the board to allow a boarding or rooming house at 44 Whittier St., and if not, to allow the conversion of the structure from two to three-family status.

According to abutters, Long had converted the two-family structure to include three additional rooms for rent without the necessary zoning board approval—then he came before the board for permission.

Dennis Ryan, 54 Chestnut St., commented "The insult that really grates me is the way he has sleazed into the neighborhood and changed the character over. He did all the construction, then proceeds to come in and say 'I'm sorry, now I need variances.'"

Christine Young, 60 Whittier St., contended the allowance would adversely affect the neighborhood.

"We don't want to see it become a neighborhood of transients," she commented.

Others contended even the multi-family use would not be acceptable. In the past, they said, at least one of the units was owner-occupied—assuring the upkeep of the property. With the owner living elsewhere, they fear the parcel and building will become run down.

When Long was offered the opportunity to rebut the comments, he said "I am not a sleazy person and I take that as a personal affront." Long continued, charging that such comments are "indicative of the smallness of a town or neighborhood. I don't care if you take the units away, but don't call me sleazy."

Long concluded by explaining the rooms for rent have been—and would continue to be—rented to businessmen who have been transferred to the area while they are looking for permanent residences.

Mobil Oil petitioned the board for numerous allowances in order to overhaul the gas station at 139 River Road. Self-service pumps with an overhead canopy will be installed further from the road than current pumps.

There will be one building about half the size of the current structure, since repair work will no longer be done. In the building will be a small store which will sell convenience items like cigarettes, pre-packaged snack foods and beverages. In addition, a car wash will be constructed.

Chairman Wesley Whitney expressed concern the store would become a convenience store, apart from the gas station—meaning customers would come in strictly for the store. The Mobil representative explained the store is necessary for the station's operator for economic reasons, and would not sell typical grocery items. In an effort to back that statement up, the representative explained there would only be 500 square feet of store—not enough room to store typical grocery items like gallons of milk and such.

Atty. Gerald Cohen, 138 River Road, speaking as an abutter, commented Mobil "has been a good neighbor" and recommended approval of the petition with some conditions.

Cohen expressed concern with the current tree line since it serves as a buffer, and asked that drainage concerns be addressed by the Conservation Commission. He was told other company representatives were meeting with the commission that very evening.

Cohen then asked that Mobil put in sod rather than mulch near trees and stated he would be willing to take care of it as he does his own if they install it. This, Cohen stated, would provide some visual consistency and would look better.

Overall, said Cohen, alterations including the store would be "a major improvement to the area."

As a party aggrieved by a Building Inspector's decision, Gail D. DerAnanian, 1 Dean Circle, requested a special permit to operate a swimming instructional program in her backyard pool.

In support of her petition, DerAnanian submitted neighbor petitions and a five-page list of people who support the operation of the six-week program. DerAnanian has a Red Cross water safety instructor's certificate.

Board member Roger Collins expressed concern after it was learned DerAnanian earns up to $6,000 each summer running the program. "Are we going to be deluged in the next couple of years with these (programs)?" he asked. Because of the money involved, such programs constitute a business in a residential area.

According to DerAnanian, most people would not be willing to dedicate the time necessary to such a program, which is individualized and helps mostly those who do not learn swimming well in large group situations.

Marilyn Nugent, 4 Dean Circle, complained of traffic congestion with cars parked in the street during times of lessons. She expressed fear that this would limit emergency access to the street. She commented she had on several occasions called the police to intervene. DerAnanian, in response, presented the board with copies of the police reports which, she said showed no hazardous conditions were present.

DerAnanian explained how the program is run, with parents simply dropping children off, except on exhibition day at the end of the six-week program.

Nugent answered, "This is the way she's running it now because she knows I'm trying to stop her."

Ann Hogan, 94 Greenwood Road, which is at the corner of Dean Circle, commented she has lived there for 24 years and has never had a problem during the ten years DerAnanian has apparently been running the program. "It is not a hazard," she contended.

Nugent countered by pointing out that "She's (Hogan) a friend of her's (DerAnanian)."

Whitney commented "We (the board) would assume so...."

A variance for an addition that will not meet setback requirements was requested by Ronald J. Hill, for property at 15 Abbot St.

According to Hill, the addition would consist of an expanded kitchen, a family room and a master bedroom. The addition would run within the existing building lines, which do not meet current setbacks of the by-law. The house is grandfathered from these regulations since it was built prior to 1941—in the year 1845 according to Hill.

Whitney suggested a special permit may be more in order than a variance considering the age of the building. A special permit could be issued for the extension of a non-conforming use as long as the petitioner can show there is no additional derigation from the neighborhood or the by-law.

John Spires, 9-11 Brechin Terrace, petitioned the board to replace his existing pre-fabricated garage with a new wood structure. Neither the current or proposed meet minimum setbacks of the Single Residence A district.

Whitney asked why Spires could not put the new garage two feet further from the lot line, thus meeting the five foot setback requirement. Spires explained moving the location in such a way would create the need to raze the current garage's concrete slab floor.

An addition not meeting minimum front yard setback requirements was requested by George Jones, 78 Carmel Road. The addition would be a vestibule for front door weather shelter.

According to the by-laws, a resident may build out to the average setbacks of other neighboring properties, which according to Jones, in this case is 17 feet from the front lot line. A variance is needed because the vestibule would extend one foot further than the allowed 17 feet.

John and Alison Godek, 71 River Road, sought a special permit for the use of an in-law apartment for the care of an elderly relative. The board cautioned that if this were approved, it would only stand until that relative no longer needs care. At that point, the kitchen would be dismantled and the property could not be rented out.

Future Shape of Andover, 1 Elm Square, erected a sign in the parking lot after receiving what they thought was an approval by the Sign Advisory Committee. The building inspector informed them they needed a variance for any sign not facing the street. The sign is located in the parking area in front of a doorway to the company's facility.

Since the sign's location was the result of a misunderstanding, Building Inspector Samuel DeSalvo is allowing the sign to remain until the board casts its decision.

The Ombu Tree of Argentina is one of the hardiest trees. Its wood is so moist that it will rarely burn and so spongy that it usually cannot be cut down.

School To Hire Consultant For Population Study

By Lewis C. Howe

The school committee will hire a consultant later this month to predict town population changes as a preliminary step in the Master Plan for Andover's public schools.

The consultant is expected to complete the full demographic study in October. Susan Poore, school committee chairman, believes the report should contain "itemized population figures" with five-to-ten year enrollment projections for both elementary and secondary levels. These numbers would be further broken down by sections of town.

"Once we receive the population figures, we can plug them in to other areas of our planning," said Committeeman Donald Robb at Tuesday night's work session.

The committee focused on numerous components of the fledgling Master Plan, which will set guidelines for the school system to operate within for the next several years.

Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, said the plan should ideally give the department "a general direction" for the next five to ten years, and provide "much more specific" goals for the next one to three years.

Seifert presented the committee with a list of objectives to be considered as integral parts of the Master Plan. Among the superintendent's items for study are curriculum revision, staff development, equipment acquisition, curriculum for non college-bound students, reinstituting summer school and the role of the Andover/Lawrence Collaborative School in the system's future.

These issues, along with a decision on whether to renovate or replace the South school, should be addressed and "lumped in under the Master Plan," Seifert commented.

Committeeman Richard Neal created a "needs chart" for the schools, listing a series of issues to be decided on under a Master Plan, with room for discussion on how to best proceed on them.

Neal sees the committee's priorities as being population planning, status of buildings, curriculum, staffing and staff development, equipment and textbooks, financial resources, and the role of the Andover/Lawrence collaborative school.

"We should make a list of needs," Neal remarked, "and decide who should be responsible for it. We should determine which things can be extracted from within the system, and which things we need to go outside for."

Once the population study results are completed this fall, the school committee can decide what may be feasibly and properly accomplished. Robb pointed out enrollment increases will force the town to determine both the "capacity and suitability" of its school buildings.

"We need to determine not just the amount of space," Robb stated, but also the condition and appropriateness of that

Collaborative School

Project Head Addresses Selectmen, Cites Benefits

By Lewis C. Howe

The proposed Andover/Lawrence collaborative school would benefit "every school in both communities" without putting a drain on municipal resources, according to Dennis Richards, Project Director.

Richards briefed the Andover selectmen Monday night on the "considerable progress" being made on the project's feasibility study. The report is slated for completion by late fall, with a December target date for a vote of approval by both Lawrence and Andover school committees.

In excess of 200 volunteers from the two communities are participating in the state-funded study, which examines the issues of financing, programs, staff and student selection, site, governance and legislation for the K-8 school. If all goes well, Richards said, the facility will be opened in September 1990.

Richards cited several benefits of the collaborative school for both communities. "First, it will mean more seats," he stated, pointing out the regional school would mitigate the overload of elementary school students as enrollments increase.

The ambitious curriculum projects planned for the school will serve as a lab for improving all local schools, Richards said. The extensive and advanced programs could naturally serve as a staff development center, with teachers learning new skills with the resources available.

Richards said the collaborative school staff would not be permanent. "The teachers at the collaborative school could work two to five years there, and then rotate to give other teachers a chance." This, he said, would allow the professional development experienced at the collaborative school to be used elsewhere in community schools.

Having a state-of-the-art school with the finest resources, equipment and programs will also attract "more and better veteran teachers" to the Andover and Lawrence schools, Richards noted. He added there is also talk of a teacher-intern program to train educators for work elsewhere in the school system.

Richards emphasized the importance of the collaborative benefitting the entire community. "We don't see this as a special school that only serves itself," he told the board.

A variety of state and private funding programs will make these initiatives possible without causing a financial burden to either Andover or Lawrence, the director commented. "There are several very promising sources of financing," he told the selectmen.

Richards said plans call for the state to pay for all land acquisition and site costs for the school, and the number of staff-development programs planned for the facility make it eligible for assorted grants and subsidies. He explained legislation requires 100 percent of transportation costs for regional schools to be reimbursed by the state.

Richards sees "four themes" guiding the project: "collaboration, curriculum, professionalism and community service." By collaborating with parents, educators and the community at large, he stated, "we can create a partnership to improve our children's education."

The "outstanding quality" of the curriculum, coupled with modern facilities and supplies, would create a more

The Andover group chose "creatures under the sea" as its theme. DCS's Ann Marie Charland, 17, of South Playground, and Mary Driscoll and Sondra Barch, 16, both of Ha Kow Wee Playground, spell out the words "Andover Aquarium."

Not Your Ordinary Sand Castles

If every sculptor worked like this, there'd be no statues in the world. But some 100 Andover kids went to the annual sand sculpture contest at Crane's Beach in Ipswich last week, knowing their works of art would last only as long as low tide. Staffers from the Andover Recreation Department helped the young artists out with depictions of "creatures under the sea." They joined other groups from all over the North Shore to see who could build the biggest and best sand creation. The Andover team took fourth place in its category.

ST. JUDE . . . A HAVEN OF HOPE

The children at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital may never attend a golf tournament but golf and people in the Andover area will play a major role in their care. St. Jude, founded by entertainer Danny Thomas, is the world's largest childhood cancer research center in terms of number of patients and treatment successes. Helping to support those increasing successes is the BARRON'S COUNTRY STORE ST. JUDE CLASSIC GOLF TOURNAMENT, which has been a major contributor to the hospital and last year provided a record $8200.

It is the first and only institution established for the sole purpose of conducting basic and clinical research into catastrophic childhood diseases.

The hospital's basic and clinical research findings and accomplishments are freely shared with physicians and research scientists on a national and international level; the hospital extends the benefits of its work to children, parents, and other medical centers throughout the world. The cost for operating the research and treatment programs of St. Jude Hospital for a single day is approximately $115,000.

The hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and cares for all patients who are admitted by physician referral. There is no financial test for admission, and a patient has never been denied admission due to an inability to pay.

Among the hospital's proudest success stories are the striking results in treating children with acute lymphocytic leukemia. When the hospital opened 25 years ago, less than 4 percent of those children diagnosed with this most common form of leukemia survived. With protocols developed at St. Jude Hospital, and now employed throughout the free world, the survival figures have risen to over 50 percent.

Today, the improved outlook for high-risk patients and those with an initial poor prognosis are examples of the way the hospital's physicians and researchers are rewriting the future of the child diagnosed with leukemia. Hodgkin's disease, Wilm's tumor, Ewing's sarcoma, neuroblastoma, and osteogenic sarcoma are other areas where St. Jude Hospital can point with pride for its research and treatment endeavors.

Patient care at St. Jude Hospital is based on the concept pioneered by its staff physicians allowing most patients to receive cancer care on an outpatient basis. Last year, this meant only 1,700 inpatient admissions as compared to over 18,500 visits in the outpatient clinic. St. Jude Hospital is a hospital without walls and a model for hospital care of the future.

St. Jude Hospital is supported primarily by funds from volunteer contributions and also receives assistance from federal grants, insurance payments, investments and major fundraising events such as the BARRON'S COUNTRY STORE ST. JUDE CLASSIC GOLF TOURNAMENT.

The support of these events allows St. Jude Children's Research Hospital to continue its role as a world-renowned haven of hope.

OPINION

THE TOWNSMAN, AUGUST 13, 1987

A Friendly Resolve

Here it is mid-summer, or even beyond, the vacation season still upon us and a time to think just good thoughts.

With that in mind it's kind of nice to reflect on a pleasant story which appeared a couple of weeks ago and actually capped a friendly resolve to a problem in an area loosely referred to as South Andover.

Seems the people there had suffered power losses on a frequent basis, with the real 'straw that broke the camel's back' being a blackout during the Super Bowl in late January.

Neighbors gathered, discussed and decided that something had to be done and sought a meeting with representatives of the Massachusetts Electric Company and the selectmen.

The attitude from the outset was excellent.

South Andover residents were firm in their belief that they simply wanted answers to why power losses were so frequent, what the utility company could do to correct them and how long could it be that consistency of power would be established.

There was to be no shouting, pointing fingers or otherwise discourteous confrontation, simply a meeting to resolve a disturbing problem.

The meeting was scheduled, courtesy reigned and the utility company promised attentiveness to the problems in the area.

They recognized that a toaster and electric razor plugged in simultaneously could short-circuit the entire neighborhood and promised to take steps to correct the situation.

Naturally, it was not an overnight correction.

But, the utility kept their word.

They made corrections.

Trees, branches and wire-threatening limbs were removed.

Circuits, transformers, etc., were made squirrel-proof, another major problem in the area as the little, bushy rodents pilfered power accidentally.

Circuit-breakers were installed in order to prevent massive blackouts in the area, should a problem arise.

After several months of applied action on the overall problem, power seems to be on and consistent, with only a couple of outages, one caused by a storm, another by an accident, both of which are acceptable reasons for such occurrences.

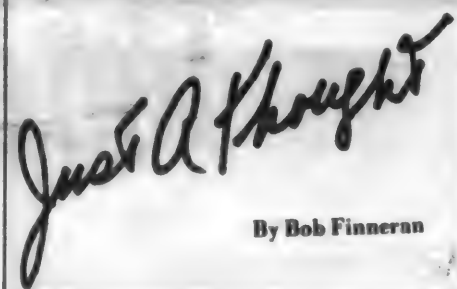

That the matter has come to a successful conclusion is fine.

But, what is more important is that neighbors and a public utility worked together in harmony to resolve a rather ticklish issue.

Power, like water and other services, are pretty much taken for granted until such time as in the instance of electricity, when the switch is turned and the lights don't go on, there becomes a demand to know why that service is not there.

In this case, there was genuine effort by Mass. Electric to correct the problem and a courteous attitude by the people deeply affected by deprived service.

The joint effort was commendable and attained results.

By Bob Finneran

Just when it seems that the chaotic state of Massachusetts politics has settled down somewhat, comes the revelation that it just isn't to be.

Seems Greg Hyatt, whose alleged birthday suit exploits derailed his bid for the GOP governorship nomination a year or so ago, is planning a birthday party for himself Sept. 6 at Bishop's in Lawrence. The event is a fundraiser for the referendum item which is scheduled to appear on the next state election ballot to rescind the legislative pay raises, a drive Greg, now an Independent, is spearheading. No doubt, Reps. Sue Tucker and Joe Hermann have already lined up a table for the bash.

And, while on the subject of governors, or whatever, it's difficult to bring myself to agree with Michael the Good, the governor who would be president, but fate dealt a cruel blow on a recent Sunday afternoon which convinced me that the Dukakis insistence on necessity for an adequate evacuation plan before the Seabrook Nuclear plant is even considered for operational purposes is proper.

It was late on a Sunday afternoon when the new chariot was turned from Route 286 onto Route 1A for a jaunt up the coast.

There the vehicle remained motionless for over one-half hour.

During that period my tender, delicate ears heard language generally reserved for the docks as motorists editorialized on the plight of Sunday drives to the resort areas.

With all of this going on a decision was made to traverse a semi sand dune by the side of the road, pass through a little section of Seabrook loaded with vacationers burning themselves to a crisp under the guise of enjoying themselves, and head for Newburyport, a trip that took from about 4:30 to 6:30 to complete.

With that scenario in mind, the thought became permanently implanted that in the event of a nuclear accident at Seabrook, the plant management would be limoed to Merrimack College where they would call in the emergency via pay phone, then proceed to the Marriott, Sheraton or Koala until the cloud blows over.

You're right on this one, Mike, better evacuation plans are necessary, but don't think the effort alone will cause petals to be strewn on your path to the White House.

There are a lot of things that bother people, but for me, the destruction of life's foibles or fables is a pestiferous thing.

Now, I'm not convinced that Washington flung a silver dollar across the river, or that he couldn't tell a lie or any of those age-old fallacies. But it's still nice to cling to those little bits of Americana.

Which is all by way of pointing out that another tenet of our brainwashing fell to journalistic enterprise this week when it was revealed that Lassie, alas, was not the kind of Collie we all dreamed she might be.

In an interview with June Lockhart, whose pumping a dog food campaign to meld canines and kittens with senior citizens for companionship, it was noted that Lassie paid more attention to her handlers than the human stars.

For instance, all those wolves which Lassie fought off defending Billy were actually German Shepherds painted to look like the vicious beasts and that the two canines were actually trained to mock fighting and growling at each other.

One of these days I'm going to reinstitute all of those little things we've adhered to over the years and compose them in a book entitled 'Santa Claus Lives.' I'll include in my book.

DOWN THE YEARS

75 Years Ago — August 1912

Andover's Alexander Black, Jr., who is at present visiting in Scotland, ran third in Forfarshire 100-yard dash at the Forfar Highland Games. There were 10,000 spectators present.

The Playdon flower store in the Arco building will be closed until September 1, and extensive repairs will be made in the meantime.

The contract for painting and decorating the interior of the Bradlee school house has been awarded to James May.

Andover Grange is planning a field day to be held August 29. Arrangements are being made for the party to visit Gregory's Seed Farm and various other points of interest.

The much needed repairs on Essex Street are going forward rapidly.

50 Years Ago — August 1937

Andover's seven new police officers, two of whom are to be appointed shortly, will be young men in their early twenties as the result of the recent civil service examination.

Many calls were received at the police station last Friday night asking for the whereabouts of a fire which lighted up the sky toward the northeast. The blaze, in Georgetown, destroyed three ice houses and threatened several cottages. Apparatus from eight towns responded.

Despite a better than 50 percent reduction in its tax bill, the American Woolen Company still remains Andover's highest taxpayer.

The first annual Central playground amateur night will be held this evening, with Malachi Lynch serving as Major Bowes.

The water mains which were extended on Lincoln Street and Bellevue Road to care for houses recently constructed were laid by labor supplied by the W. P. A.

25 Years Ago — August 1962

A three-way meeting August 20 may pave the way for a solution to the location of a town hall under the Urban Renewal plans.

Based on the assurances of State-Rep. Arthur Williams, the selectmen have agreed to advance $1,500 in engineering funds for further work on Rogers Brook.

Concerned town officials are seeking ways to get some of the work done on recreational facilities at the high school, in the face of bids that exceed the appropriation.

Lovejoy Road—a vehicular and pedestrian nightmare—will stay in its present condition long after the new Sanborn school opens in September.

The combined playground and Pomp's Pond staffs will enjoy a picnic August 14, starting at 7 p.m. at the Pond.

10 Years Ago — August 1977

Andover's ambulance service has been licensed by the state department of public health. The town received its Class 1 license to operate ambulance service this week, effective through July 26, 1979.

McGovern Praised

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Please allow me publicly to praise Senator Patricia McGovern for her concerted efforts to obtain funding for the Hazardous Waste Cleanup Initiative. The depth of her commitment to recovering a decent, livable environment is impressive. Without her backing and commitment, there might not have been adequate implementation of Question 4 and valuable ground—and time—might have been lost. Thanks to her, $21 million has been voted for operating expenses (including funds for 460 new staff) and $60 million in bond monies for site work. This significant funding should achieve significant results.

Last spring Senator McGovern met with a group of Andover citizens urging her to support funding for the Hazard Waste Cleanup Law and she showed herself to be responsive and concerned. All of us present are especially grateful to her.

But the environment has hardly been saved by the cleanup law. Industry continues to pour toxic materials into manufacture and those toxics are then poured back into the environment. Consider these acts: every year for every one Massachusetts resident, 100 pounds of hazardous waste are produced. Every day two tons of toxic chemicals are dumped into Boston Harbor. Fewer than half of the 1,500 toxic dumpsites in the state have been identified. Although only 22 toxic chemicals are tested for in-water supplies, over 200 toxic substances could be polluting our water. Although only seven toxic pollutants are cited for emission control, 196 pollutants are emitted. Chemical production and chemical spills continue to proliferate. (Statistics from MASSPIRG).

Unless we can control the actual use of toxics in industry, we are fooling ourselves into thinking we are improving the environment. Every day we dump more and more toxics into the air and water we, our children and our children's children are destined to breathe and drink. To take a real stand against this mounting pollution, we urgently need the Toxics Use Reduction Act. Designed to prevent pollution by industry, it would require companies to report on toxics used, involve citizens in monitoring toxics use in their communities, phase out the use of chemicals causing cancer or birth defects, tax the sale of toxics, actually reduce the use of toxics and provide businesses with technical assistance.

We must call upon Senator McGovern to support the Toxics Use Reduction Act to ensure its passage in the legislature this year. Industry must be forced to act responsibly and to look to the long term environmentally.

Those of us who lament the loss of the garden and the passing of a greener age applaud

Senator McGovern and her environmentalist colleagues for their unflagging efforts thus far, but the struggle to renew the earth is far from over. Right now this critical bill requires their immediate attention.

Vision A Lifesaver

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Recently in Andover, at a midtown crosswalk, I was observing the usual precaution of a prudent pedestrian. My peripheral vision was on the alert.

Suddenly I braked my feet a scant yard from instant death.

Some heedless driver had spotted an opening, as it were, around end.

The unoccupied bus stop in front of the former town hall on Main Street was a likely hole to zip through.

I just managed to catch the on-coming vehicle out of the corner of my eye—my lifesaver.

Such narrow escape obliges me to alert public attention to a very dangerous situation.

Six years ago some engineering genius designed the latest in heavy iron mounts for traffic lights at Elm Square and at the intersection by the Andover Savings Bank.

He could not have had pedestrians in mind. It may be that he did not know that the traffic lights at every intersection to the north through Andover and Lawrence had push buttons, likewise on Academy Hill to the south.

His blueprint failed to specify push buttons.

If my guardian angel had not been on duty a couple of weeks ago, I could not now be writing these sobering lines to try to save one pedestrian from death in downtown Andover.

Exhibit

"Of Time and Vulnerability," an exhibit featuring works by four artists, will open Sunday, Sept. 13, with a reception from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Laura Knott Art Gallery at Bradford College in Haverhill.

The exhibit, which includes Lorraine Cook's sculpted boxes, Julia Zdanowicz's photographs, Jay Connolly's paintings and Will Van Overbeek's ekta-color photographs, will be on display through October 12.

Retirees

"Planning for Retirement," a seven-session class aimed at people considering retirement, will be held on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Lynn campus of North Shore Community College.

The course will introduce alternatives open to retirees, informing them of options in housing, legal issues, Social Security and Medicare and financial issues.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy Winn

You know how it is living alone. Sometimes it's scary. You love your independence and being in your own place, but you never feel completely safe. You can't seem to rid yourself of the nagging fear of what could happen in an emergency. What if you were seriously ill or injured and could not get to the telephone? Who would hear your cries for help?

The Council on Aging has a new program called Lifeguard which can eliminate that fear of living alone. Lifeguard links you with a skilled professional ready and waiting to help you in an emergency any hour of the day or night. What a comfort it is to know that someone is always there to hear you. Lifeguard provides a simple, inexpensive, in-home personal emergency response system. In addition to medical emergencies, Lifeguard can be used to summon help in case of an intruder or fire.

If you would like more information on the Lifeguard program or a home demonstration, call 470-3830.

The senior center lunch program continues through Friday, Aug. 21. Nutritious lunches are served Monday through Friday at 11:45 a.m. at the senior center. When was the last time you had a roast beef dinner for 50 cents? For participants in the lunch program it was last Wednesday. The only requirements are that you are an Andover resident age 60 or older and make a reservation by calling 470-3830 before 4 p.m. on the business day preceding the luncheon you plan to attend.

People on low-salt diets should know that all meals prepared at the senior center are low-salt. No salt is added during preparation and low-sodium sauces and gravies are served.

If you are homebound, you can still get the nutritious meals. Meals on Wheels is available to Andover residents who are unable to attend the lunch program at the senior center due to physical limitation or illness. A doctor's certification is necessary for home delivery of meals. Call 470-3830 for further information.

If you don't drive, yet would like to visit the senior center for lunches, movies, bingo or other activities, the town provides transportation services for Andover residents. The Andover Weebus can bring you for lunch for only 35 cents each way.

Transportation to Lawrence, Methuen or North Andover is only $1.25 each way. For reservations, call 975-2747 24 hours in advance. If you need a ride to lunch, tell us when you call and we'll make the arrangements for you.

Upcoming films at the senior center: August 17, "Hush, Hush Sweet Charlotte;" August 24, "Funny Girl;" August 31, "Victor/Victoria." Films are shown Mondays at 1 p.m. and again on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Well Water

A well water workshop will be held at Berry Hall, Room 201, Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute, Maple Street, Hawthorne, on Monday, Aug. 17, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The workshop is designed to teach proper maintenance procedures, prevent costly repairs and well failure. Topics will include well water quantity and quality, construction costs and basic geology.

To register, contact Essex County Cooperative Extension in Hawthorne.

Eight swimmers from Andover will soon be on their way to the Far East to take part in meets and sightsee along the way. ## Swimmers To Visit Far East

Eight Andover swimmers, members of Bernal's Gators swimming team at Harvard University, are leaving August 18 for a two-week swimming tour of the Far East.

They will be met at Narita Airport in Tokyo by a delegation from the city of Yatabe. Mayor Misao Kimura will be among the people greeting the swimmers, who will be guests of the mayor and city fathers. After a few days of swim meets, sightseeing and a banquet, the group will proceed to Kajikajawa where they will participate in swim meets at the Nihon Sports Club, a rural facility used by the 30,000 members of the Nihon Sports Co.

The next stop will be Tokyo via a bus tour through the mountain area with its shrines and hot spas. In addition to the swim meets, ample time will be set aside for sightseeing in Asakasua, the old part of Tokyo, and Kamajura, the site of the famous "Daibutsu," an immense buddha cast more than 700 years ago.

Finally, the group will fly to Hong Kong where they will be met at Kai Tak Airport by representatives from the Hong Kong Swim Association. The swimmers will shop in the Kowloon area, take a trip on the Star Ferry and a tram tour to Victoria's Peak, enjoy a banquet at the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club and a 10-course Chinese banquet complete with music and traditional dances.

The swimmers will compete in the Asian International Meet. Other visits will be to Ocean Park and Ocean World, where the world's biggest wave tank and an atoll reef may be viewed. There will be a cable-car journey across the South China Seas and a performance by dolphins and whales at the Ocean Theatre. Dinner will be at one of the famous floating restaurants in Aberdeen.

Bernal's Gators is a private swim club under the guidance of Joseph Bernal, who is in charge of the aquatic department at Harvard University. Many members have competed successfully in the Junior Olympics and at the Nationals.

Andover will be represented by Sean Herlihy, son of Jim and Becky Herlihy, 24 Timothy Drive; Tom, Danielle and Michelle Graham, children of Thomas and Pauline Graham, 11 Blueberry Circle; Anne and Laura Koerckel, daughters of Gerard and Lois Koerckel, 8 Abbot Bridge Drive; Amy Van Aken, daughter of William and Diana Van Aken, 9 Wolcott Avenue; and David Mainen, son of Eugene and Barbara Mainen, 1 Deerfield Way.

Blue Wins Third Title

Andover Blue, managed by Joe Iarrobino, assisted by coaches Dick Allard and Red Harris, won the Pony League West Division for the third straight year. The Blue had a record of 14 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie and won eight and tied 1 in their last nine games. This was the best overall record in both divisions.

Andover Blue 10 - Stoneham Cubs 2

The Blue broke this 2-1 game wide open with a six-run fifth inning and rolled over the Stoneham Cubs 10-2. Joe Iarrobino scored in the first on a passed ball and David Blank scored on an error in the fourth. Matt Harris led off the fifth with a single, Todd Allard singled, Iarrobino singled, scoring Harris, Adam Brown singled, scoring Allard, Chris Eggert singled, scoring two more and Blank walked with the bases full, completing a wild fifth inning. Eggert went the route, pitching a two-hitter, striking out eight and walking one. Iarrobino led the offense with four hits.

Andover 7 - North Reading 0

The story of this game was the one hit, 11 strikeout effort by David Blank. The only hit was a second-inning single to right field. This victory clinched the West Division title and gave the Blue home-field advantage throughout the playoffs. The Blue scored one in the first and six in the second. Brett Hammond walked, Matt Harris sacrificed and beat the throw, Todd Allard singled, Bob Sheehan walked, sending in a run, Joe Iarrobino and Peter Cannam walked, sending in two more, and Chris Eggert reached on an error, scoring two more. After the second inning, David Blank breezed through, clinching the victory.

Andover 8 - Stoneham Tigers 3

In the opening game of the playoffs, paced by the steady five-hit pitching of Chris Eggert, Andover Blue defeated the Stoneham Tigers 8-3. The Blue had only five hits but took advantage of 10 walks and two errors to put this game in the victory column. The Blue scored three runs in the bottom of the second without a hit when Musteraite, Blank, Hammond and Brown walked and, on two throwing errors, one by the pitcher and the other by the catcher, three runs crossed the plate. Joe Iarrobino walked, Peter Kannam singled and Iarrobino scored on a throwing error in the third. Brian Novelline walked, Brendon Sharkey beat out a bunt and Todd Musteraite singled with the bases loaded to score two runs and Brett Hammond singled in two more runs. Chris Eggert retired the first nine batters before allowing a runner on base in the fourth. The Blue defense was flawless in the field.

The Blues Are Happy

Andover Team Takes First Place In Division

In what proved to be a key week, Joe Iarrobino's Andover Blue took sole possession of first place in the West Division with two wins and a tie, including a thumping of the first-place Lynnfield Gold. With a record of 12 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie, Blue has not lost in its last seven games, winning six and tying one. Two games (Stoneham and North Reading) are slated this week before playoffs begin.

Andover Blue 3 - Reading Jets 3

Andover Blue and Reading Jets played to a 3-3 tie in a game that was called after nine innings. Blue scored two runs in the second when David Blank led off with a double, scored on Brett Hammond's single and Hammond scored on Brian Novelline's single. Reading scored one in the second and two in the fourth. Todd Musteraid relieved starter Hammond with the bases loaded in the fourth and none out and retired the side on one pitch when the Blue pulled off a triple play. Scott Eggert speared a line drive, stepped on first and fired to second. Musteraid pitched the next six innings, shutting out the Jets with two harmless singles. The Blue tied the game in the fifth when Peter Kannam walked and scored on Musteraid's triple.

Andover Blue 18

Lynnfield Gold 5

The Blue crushed Lynnfield Gold 18-5 and moved into sole possession of first.

The Blue sent 21 men to the plate in the first inning, bombing Lynnfield for 11 hits and five walks to score 15 runs and place the game out of reach. Joe Iarrobino had 2 hits, 1 walk and 2 runs scored, Tom Kannam had 2 hits, 1 walk and 2 runs scored, Todd Musteraid had 2 hits, 2 runs batted in, 2 runs scored and Brian Novelline had 2 hits, 2 runs scored and 1 run batted in. Brett Hammond and Brendan Sheehy chipped in two hits each and Adam Brown, Ben Russell and Todd Allard also had hits.

Scott Eggert pitched three innings of one-run all, Musteraid pitched three runless innings and Brown pitched the seventh inning.

Andover Blue 9

Reading Y's Men 6

After falling behind early 2-0, the Blue came back to whip the Reading Y's Men 9-6. Reading scored two in the first, however in the second inning, Todd Musteraid led off with a double, scored on Brett Hammond's single, Adam Brown walked and both pulled off a double steal, Brian Novelline singled to right, scoring Hammond and Brown, Matt Harris sacrificed and Novelline scored.

Reading scored one run in the fourth to narrow the margin 4-3.

The Blue scored three more in the fifth when Joe Iarrobino walked, Peter Kannam singled, both completed a double steal and scored on Chris Eggert's booming double and Eggert scored on Musteraid's ground ball. Todd, Musteraid, David Blank and Scott Eggert shared the pitching. The Blue defense was paced by the outstanding play of Matt Harris at short-stop and a great diving catch by Tom Kannam in center.

Junior Grid Registration

The Andover Junior Football League will celebrate its 25th year with registration for this fall's season on Saturday, Sept. 12, from 10 a.m. to noon and Sunday, Sept. 13, from noon to 2 p.m.

Registration will take place at Doherty Junior High School at the Bartlet Street entrance. Boys ages 10-13 will be eligible to play. There will be approximately four to six teams and the schedule will include six games, the first of which is set for September 20 at 1 p.m.

The introduction of all players and coaches will take place at noon. Head coach Richard Collins of the Andover High School Golden Warriors will be on hand to open the season.

The Andover Junior Football League program is unique in that it incorporates a special third-quarter rule within the game. The intent of the rule is to insure that every player of each team plays at least one quarter of every scheduled game. It is also the intent of league organizers that the 11 boys with the least experience on each team play in the third quarter.

Registration is $30. If more than one boy from a family registers, the fee is two players, $45, more than two, $50, the maximum amount charged. All boys must bring a copy of a physician's physical to the registration.

Applications are also available at the Sport Shop.

Auditions

Auditions for D.K. Oklahoma's new musical comedy, "The Saints of Seventeenth Street," will be held August 27 and 28 at 7 p.m. in Liberty Hall, 50 East Merrimack St., Lowell.

Characters of all ages and types are needed, including several roles for older actors. Clear, tuneful voices are a requirement; some dancing is also required. Musicians and technicians are also needed.

Performance dates will be early October in Lowell.

The overall production is sponsored by the Actorsingers of Nashua and rehearsals will be held at their headquarters in Nashua, N.H.

Gold Misses Playoff Spot

By Rick Harrison

For the first time in five years and only the third time in the last decade, the Andover Gold baseball team will not be playing for a league championship.

Gold, winner of two straight Greater Reading Pony League titles and two consecutive Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League championships prior to that, was unceremoniously bounced from this year's playoffs by Lynnfield last Saturday.

Caught in a one-game semifinal round "knock-out" situation, the Greater Reading League East Division winners dropped a 9-2 decision to West Division runner-up Lynnfield at Andover High.

The loss snapped a six-game AG win streak and brought the regular season to an abrupt halt.

Prior to the playoff setback Gold registered a pair of victories over the Reading Astros (13-2) and Stoneham Tigers (10-6).

Gold finished the league campaign with a 13-51 overall record and is now 49-114 since moving to the Greater Reading League three years ago.

Andover Gold was scheduled to return to non-league play earlier this week, facing Revere in the double-elimination Winthrop Invitational Tournament.

Chris Lane remains the top Andover Gold hitter with a .483 average and nine of the 14 AG players are hitting over .300.

Mark Hopkinson checks in at .432, Kurt Soloman .419, Keith Abernathy .400, Paul Lembo .367, Dave Carriere .365, Brian Smith .361, Bill Batchelder .317 and Jason Proctor .313.

Andover Gold, 13-2

Continuing its late-season offensive surge, Gold laced 16 hits and piled up 13 runs en route to the triumph over the Reading Astros at Morton Field.

Paul Lembo raised his pitching record to 2-0 with a complete-game six-hitter, walking five and striking out two. Only one Astros' run was earned.

AG exploded for seven runs in the second inning, sending 12 men to the plate in the process.

Keith Abernathy lashed a two-run single in the stanza, RBI hits were added by Jason Proctor, Peter Arthur and Chris Lane and Jim Hanning drew a bases-loaded walk. Kurt Soloman, who went 4-for-4 in the game, drilled two singles and scored a run.

Gold tacked on four runs in the fourth, Lembo clouting a two-run double and Soloman an RBI single to key the surge. Bill Batchelder and Abernathy also laced hits and scored runs.

The final two AG runs came in the fifth when Chris Lane ripped a one-out single, Abernathy followed with an RBI double and Soloman rescued Abernathy with a single.

Chris Lane and Abernathy finished the game 3-for-4 while Brian Smith contributed a single.

Defensive standouts were Abernathy at short-stop and Hanning in leftfield.

Andover Gold, 10-6

Bill Batchelder, with last-out relief help from Keith Abernathy, hiked his personal mound ledger to 3-1 as he stymied the Stoneham Tigers at Stoneham High.

Although permitting eight hits in 6 and 2/3 innings, he struck out 13, walked only one and allowed just two earned runs. Batchelder also set a team record with seven straight strikeouts, fanning the last batter in the first inning before whiffing the side in the second and third.

The teams traded three-run first innings, Gold notching its runs on a succession of walks, errors and wild pitches.

Dave Carriere opened the game with a long double and scored the first AG run and Brian Smith had a single in the opening stanza.

Gold took a brief 4-3 lead in the top of the fourth when Jimmy Hanning lined a one-out single, moved to third on Carriere's single and crossed on a suicide-squeeze bunt by Batchelder.

During the Middle Ages, the year began at various dates in different times and places. In England it was not until 1751 that January was restored to its place as first month as it had been during the Roman era.

Stoneham retaliated with a run in the home half to keep it even, but Gold broke things open with two in the fifth and four more in the sixth inning.

In the fifth Kurt Soloman and Paul Lembo led with singles and eventually scored on errors.

In the sixth Carriere singled, Batchelder doubled, Chris Lane lofted a sacrifice fly, Soloman whacked an RBI single, Lembo walked,

Playoffs

Scott Halecki walked, Jason Proctor laced an RBI single and Keith Abernathy plated Lembo on a fielder's choice.

Carriere paced the 13-hit Gold assault with 3-for-4, Smith was 2-for-2, Hanning 2-for-3 and Solomon 2-for-4 with three runs scored.

Matt Daniels stroked a sharp single to centerfield.

Lynnfield, 9-2

Gold headed into the playoffs on a roll, having scored 80 runs on 85 hits in the previous six games.

Undefeated ace pitcher Keith Abernathy was on the mound and it appeared the two-time defending champs would be tough to beat. Unfortunately, Gold probably had more to do with its downfall than Lynnfield did.

Ironically Gold ended up outpitching Lynnfield 8-6 and playing flawless defense except for two throwing errors on attempted pickoffs. But nine walks, two hit batsmen and a half-dozen passed balls and wild pitches combined to do the bulk of the damage.

Six of the nine Lynnfield runs were unearned and one key "non-call" in the fourth helped keep a two-out, four-run Lynnfield inning alive.

Gold also squandered several golden scoring opportunities, stranding runners at second and third in the fourth inning and leaving the bases loaded in the fifth. For the game AG left 11 runners aboard.

Typical of the Gold miseries was the first inning where Lynnfield inched ahead 1-0 on a walk, errant pickoff throw and passed ball.

In the fateful fourth Lynnfield had runners at first and second with two outs and the bottom of the order up. Abernathy got two quick strikes on the next batter, ran the count to 2-2, then had a tough call on a curveball that handcuffed the hitter and appeared to be the third strike. The call went Lynnfield's way, however, and it opened the floodgates for four runs on a series of walks.

In the Gold fourth consecutive one-out singles by Abernathy and Kurt Solomon, along with a wild pitch, put men in scoring position. However, the next two hitters were retired easily.

In the fifth Peter Arthur and Dave Carriere drew one-out walks, Chris Lane lined a single to leftfield, but the ball was hit so hard no one could score. The next batter drilled a hard grounder to the mound, but the Lynnfield pitcher stabbed it and escaped the inning unscathed.

Lynnfield built its lead to 9-0 in the sixth with four more runs, parlaying three singles, two walks and a hit batsman.

Gold broke through for a run in the sixth on singles by Solomon, Paul Lembo and Jason Proctor, but again two runners were left aboard.

The final AG run came in the seventh when Lane reached on a fielder's choice, took third on Abernathy's single and scored on a wild pitch.

One other Gold threat came in the bottom of the first inning, Lane grounding a two-out single to rightfield and Abernathy belting a vicious line drive that the Lynnfield third baseman gloved.

The heart of the Gold order once again hit the ball well as Lane, Abernathy and Solomon all went 2-for-4.

Champions

Continue Well In Tourney Play

The 11-year-old division of the Andover National Little League continue to do well in tournament play.

After winning the Billerica Tournament, the team continued their excellent play in the Chelmsford Tournament.

Yesterday, they played for the championship against Chelsea.

In Billerica, the team was undefeated, going six wins and no losses, while coming back twice from 7 to 5 deficits to win in the last inning. Timely hitting by Brian Flanagan in that tournament earned him the Most Valued Player trophy. Runner-up for that award was Matt Wolcott for his great defensive work behind the plate and timely hitting.

During the Chelmsford Tournament, Rick Saggese hit two towering home runs to help his team take a big lead early.

The team still has two games remaining in Lowell's Shedd Park.

The youngsters play tonight at 6 and, if they win, Sunday at 5:30 p.m., for their third championship.

Tennis Tourney

The Sixth Annual Samaritan Open Tennis Tournament will be held at the Andover High School courts on Shawsheen Road August 28, 29 and 30. The tournament will benefit the Samaritans, the 24-hour suicide prevention and befriending service for the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire.

Entry forms are available at local sporting goods stores and tennis clubs.

The entry fee is tax deductible. Yellow Penn balls and refreshments will be provided and there will be trophies and prizes for the winners.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

AND THE KITCHEN SINK

Today's kitchen sinks can be adapted to dozens of different jobs by virtue of a wide choice of accessories. There is a wood block that can cover the sink and convert it into a cutting surface. A strainer basket for the center bowl doubles as a colander. There are draining baskets and wrap-in draining boards. Some modern sinks also can be installed flush with the surrounding work surface so that water and scraps can be wiped straight off the top of the counter into the sink. To expand a sink's efficiency even further, choose faucet systems that perform a multiplicity of tasks. Long gooseneck designs allow for the cleaning of big pots, while different spray adaptions speed up the job. What could be new about a kitchen sink? Check it out at WINDSOR KITCHENS. We have all the latest products for a kitchen remodeling.

Just changing cabinets will not make a complete renovation. Today it takes careful planning, professional design, state-of-the-art products and a team of workers to put it all together. We have the experience and the materials to make your ideal kitchen a reality. Work it out with us at 1161 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. We're here Mon. 9-6; Tuesday 9 to 5:30; Friday 9 to 5:30; Saturday 10 to 2; Sun., Mon. Tues., closed or by appointment. Tel. 372-3444

Kiosk

my car).

Then, together, we muscled the panels into the van.

The whole operation had taken about an hour.

I agreed to follow the van in my car; if the frame were to topple off, I was to catch it on the bounce.

It was a very likely scenario from where I sat. Figure the van was maybe seven feet tall; the frame, another four feet. That's 11 feet. Electrical wires in Lawrence cross the roads at roughly six feet. Stoplights dangle well below them. As I trailed Joan, gobbling down Maalox tablets, I prayed that some invisible entity would raise all those obstacles just a few crucial inches as the swaying frame passed beneath them.

It did. Maybe I'll start going to church.

In Andover, the wires were higher. However, the town had forgotten to trim its trees. Joan had to drive Main Street right down the middle to avoid them. And she succeeded, until she parked the van next to the bank. Then a maple pounced on the frame from behind.

It took four of us, plus a muscle-bound custodian, to free it from the tree and the van top.

Joan and I then assembled the kiosk by ourselves. It took us an hour; we had 18 screws left over.

Because I am a wimp, the Andover Bank will be the kiosk's last stand. On August 27, we will take it down.

And we will store it.

Or maybe we'll set it up on a modest plot of land and rent it out. For housing. Even minus 18 screws, it'll outlast most of the stuff that's going up these days.

Fitness Exhibit

"Fit for America: Health, Fitness, Sport and American Society 1830-1940," an exhibit that explores the origins of the country's love affair with fitness, will open in the Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington on Sunday, Sept. 13, and run through Boston Marathon Day, April 18, 1988.

The exhibit looks at how Americans thought about their health, the self-cures they adopted and their quest for the ideal physical form during the era of industrialization.

Cougars Complete Season

The Cougars beat Century 21 8-3 in the third game of the season with strong hitting by Dan-yelle Constantineau and Katie Boness.

The Inex Cougars won the fourth game, against Jackson Lumber, 28-10.

The fifth game, against Landcraft, was a tough one, but the Cougars were victorious 12-8 with strong hitting from Kerry Haggerty and Jen Msumba.

The Cougars played Andover Optical next and defeated them 21-0 with great hitting by the entire team.

The Cougars met their match in the seventh game against Boxford H. The game went into extra innings. The final score was 15-14. There was strong hitting from Julie Connor, Jule Gian-gregorio and Lindsey Sweeney had two home-runs and a grand slam.

The eighth game against Century 21 was won with strong hitting by Liz Clarke, Courtney Charfin and Rachel Roberts. The score was 5-3.

The Inex Limo Cougars were next pitted against Jackson Lumber. Good hitting by Nicole Belleisle and Holly Parker paved the way for the 21-7 victory.

Inex Limo Cougars finished the season 8 and 2 with a loss to Landcraft 7-6.

Open House

The Air Force Thunderbirds aerial demonstration team will perform at Hanscom Air Force Base's open house at 2:15 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29.

The open house runs from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Other attractions include a performance by the U.S. Army Golden Knights Parachute team, music by the Air Force Band of New England and the Civil Air Patrol Bagpipe Band and an Air Force K-9 dog demonstration.

Two additional requirements could be implemented if a business in such a district abuts a residential district or a building in residential use. A business abutting a residential district would be required to provide a 20-foot deep buffer zone. Any business could not be built closer than 50 feet away from any abutting building in residential use.

The second type of zone, a "Mixed Use District", (MUZ), would replace the Shawsheen Plaza/Stevens St., Ballardvale and Railroad Ave. Industrial G Zones. This change, according to Hill, would "encourage the diversity of compatible land uses such as office, residential, retail and consumer services.

Maximum building heights, number of stories, and building coverage would all be scaled down from what is currently allowed in these areas under the Industrial G-type zoning.

Under the MUZ plan, there would be specific design standards established. Thirty percent of any lot would have to be landscaped open space and no building could come within 150 feet of a residential structure. Parking requirements would be under current zoning by-law and pedestrian walkways, streets and driveways would be designed for safe and convenient access.

Also included in the standards are 20-foot buffer requirements for any building abutting a residential use or parcel zoned for residential use. Finally exterior lighting would be designed so as not to impact on abutting properties.

Also proposed was the concept of Planned Development within the Mixed Use and General Business districts. This concept would ask that developers work with the town in planning for mixed uses on their individual parcels. A special permit would be necessary for such development.

Such a program would promote architectural design flexibility and provide visual and/or physical access to the Shawsheen River. It would also assist in the creation of a mix of residential and commercial/industrial areas at appropriate densities, heights and mixtures of uses. Finally, implementation would encourage the preservation and restoration of historical structures.

"The Planned development would allow a mixture of uses already allowed in the underlying zonign district, but there would be more flexibility on the design standards," commented Hill.

The problem as Chairman Michael Houghton saw it was how they could get developers to participate in such an effort. He believes many developers will just go along with the Mixed Use or General Business regulations since participation in the Planned Development concept would take more time and may cause financing problems. To encourage participation, he said, it would be necessary to creat incentives for the developer.

Hill commented one possible incentive would be to offer developers the more flexible design standards, for instance flexible setback requirements, higher density or felexible parking requirements, if he participates in the Planned Development process.

Principal Planner Nancy Jeton proposed that instead of having Planned Development as a suggestion to developers, the town could create another type of zone altogether for parcels for which the board deems it necessary. In a Planned Development Zone, the developer would be required to participate to attain permission for some uses or mixtures of uses. Such a zone would be implemented for situations like the DASA complex, to give the board better control over the parcel.

Houghton also expressed concern that implementation of the LBZ, even if limited to those areas specified in the proposal, could create problems. "I have a real aversion to any kind of strip zoning," he commented.

Houghton added creation of the two new zoning types could be limited to the specified areas as a one-time solution. In short, these would not become possibilities for any rezoning of land in town, other than those specified in the proposal.

According to Jeton, the problem lies in the implementation. "We've got to figure out a way to make it work," she commented. The ultimate goal, she said, is to encourage development of the land in question while still maintaining regulatory and development guidance abilities for the planning board and staff.

Board members agreed that the principal behind the proposal was on target, but believe much fine-tuning would have to be done to implement it in a way that insures the accomplishment of the overall goals.

Board member Russ Moran and Jeton suggested the most important aspects of the proposal be placed on the next annual town meeting warrant, with further implementational articles to be promoted over several years.

In closing the discussion, Houghton directed board members to begin thinking of ways in which to encourage developers' participation in Planned Development. He suggested that they all think in terms of "What are the advantages (to a developer) of doing this?"

professional atmosphere for teachers "to make them more successful." Limitations in many schools can serve to "hold teachers back," he said.

The concept of community service, Richards commented, refers to the use of the school's facilities for outside learning or recreation programs in both communities.

While the project director stressed "we have notions of what the school should be," he added cautiously "we don't know now what it will be." Richards said once the feasibility study is completed, the group will "get the information out to the public."

At present, a site along Beacon St. is being examined for the proposed school's home, but Richards emphasized this is far from a given. "A full environmental impact study still has to be completed," he said. This report is also due in October. The collaborative school project has several contingency sites under consideration should the Beacon St. location be deemed unsuitable.

Local colleges, including Merrimack, Northern Essex, and Boston's Emerson College (which plans to relocate to Lawrence) are assisting with the collaborative school study, Richards said. "I would also like to see a college work with us on our teacher-internship program sometime in the future," he added.

Resident Phil Sullivan asked Richards what Lawrence's reception to the project has been, to which the director responded "everyone in the city has been very supportive."

Selectman Charles Wesson spoke for the board when he said "it looks to be a very exciting program."

In other business, the board instructed Kenneth Mahony, Town Manager, to continue a search for afterschool day care facilities in town. David Birnbach, representing the school committee, reiterated the committee's stand that "the schools are not in the business of providing day care."

The schools, Birnbach stated, are charged with educating children, while day care services fall under the jurisdiction of the town. He added "there is still a lot of frustration" among Andover parents whose children have no place to go between the time school lets out and mom and dad get home from work.

Mahony offered hope, saying "the news is not all negative." Two potential sites, the Town Manager said, are being examined as possible after-hours day care facilities.

However, Mahony continued, the locations, at the YMCA, would not be ready by September 1.

The selectmen also approved a request by Digital Equipment Corporation to store and keep 250 gallons of Diesel Oil and 300 gallons of fuel oil aboveground and 15,000 gallons of fuel oil in underground tanks at the company's Dascomb Road site.

Ambrose McKeough, 5 Surry Lane, opposed the request, saying any leak in the underground tanks could seep onto his property, causing damage to the water supply.

Michael Benham, representing Digital, attempted to allay these fears by stating the underground tanks would be made of fiberglass guaranteed not to leak for 30 years.

Mahony pointed out the tanks must be tested each year by law. He added, "Digital is a company noted for its maintenance of equipment."

Selectmen chairman Gerald Silverman added "homes with old metal storage tanks would pose more of a danger to neighborhoods than new tanks of this type." The measure passed unanimously.

space. From there, he continued, numerous questions arise. "We need to know how many classrooms we have, do we have enough cafeteria and gym space for all the new students, is the playground adequate, and so forth."

Robb also stressed grade reorganization in the schools as something he would like to see under the Master Plan "with buildings and space to support that." The committeeman said he would be partial to "major curriculum changes that would have an impact on space and its uses."

The proposed collaborative school, Robb observed, could solve some of the space and curriculum dilemmas. Poore responded by saying she would want to see what the financial impact of the proposed K-8 school would be before making any such plans.

Financing for all components of the Master Plan must be considered, Poore noted, in the committee's

Completes Training

Cadet Steven R. Letch, son of Alan W. Letch, 5 Farrwood Drive, Andover, and Joan Letch of Natick, has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at McChord Air Force Base, Wash.

Field training, attended normally between a cadet's second and third year of college, gives an opportunity to evaluate each student's potential as an officer, according to an Air Force spokesman.

The summer's curriculum consists of orientations on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized.

The field training is four weeks, but cadets in the two-year ROTC program receive an additional two weeks of instruction in the development of air power and the contemporary Air Force.

Letch is a student at Arizona State University, Tempe.

Whaling

The Poobley Greegy Puppet Theater presents "Going, Going, Gone Whaling" at the Peabody Museum of Salem on Sunday, Sept. 13, at 3 p.m. in the East India Marine Hall. This presentation offers a capsule history of the American whaling business through the eyes of 16-year-old Abner Whimpenney who goes to sea in the American whaling ship Cachalot out of New Bedford in 1877.

A fully loaded freezer will remain frozen for up to two days if the lid/door remains closed. During a long period outage, add approximately 25 lbs. of dry ice to a nearly full freezer and food will remain frozen for three to four days. In a half loaded freezer, it will be safe for two to three days.

$1M Addition To Institute Tops Building List

Genetics Institute heads up the list of building permits issued by the Building Division of the Department of Community Development and Planning in July with $1.1 million of additions and alterations. The firm will construct a utility building extension valued at $300,000 and complete $800,000 worth of alterations to their existing facility at 1 Burr Road.

presentation of its goals to Town Meeting next spring.

The school committee will hold another planning work session at their next meeting August 25.

The committee will name an interim high school principal next week to begin preparing for the upcoming school year. While there is still hope of naming a permanent principal by the time classes resume on September 10, Seifert said "that would really be pushing it."

"If we hired someone from the inside," Seifert commented, "they might be able to step in right away," but he added a temporary principal will help things run smoothly until the new administrator is ready to take the reins.

Mary Lyman, Andover personnel director, said the town is still working towards naming a permanent successor to Mary Jennings by early next month. Jennings resigned as principal in July to accept a headmaster's post in Brookline.

The personnel department has had "a good number of applicants" for the position, Lyman said. Applications are being accepted through August 15.

A screening committee of parents, administrators, teachers and students will begin paring down the list of candidates next week, Seifert explained, with final interviews taking place around the end of August or beginning of September.

Once the new principal is chosen, Seifert said, that person will be included in the plans for Andover High School outlined in the Superintendent's goals for the upcoming school year. These include, Seifert stated, an upgrading of Academic Standards for the school, improvements to the condition of the school building, and working to increase school spirit.

Seifert said he also plans to involve the new principal in the development of a multi-year plan for the High School in conjunction with staff and students.

The school committee also voted Tuesday to rescind its July 14 vote that had eliminated the position of Television Coordinator from the school budget. The $30,500 account for the Educational TV has now been restored. The money had been placed in a contingency account following the earlier vote.

Poore said the coordinator's position was reinstated after legal questions arose concerning the abolition of the program, which had been previously allotted as part of the committee's budget.

Nutmeg Bakers Supply Co., 123 Tewksbury St., freezer addition, $400,000; Merrimack College, interior alterations and fire alarm replacement, $71,000; Visiting Nurses Association, 1 Union St., completion of building, $17,000; Spruce Tree Ltd. Nine New Dwelling permits (single-family) were issued, as follows:

MJM Building, 21 Knollcrest Drive, $163,000; Douglas Ahern, 7 Fairway Drive, $240,000; Wynwood Associates, 9 Powers Road, $117,000; A.J. Foundation permits for 6 new dwellings were also issued at a value of $4,000 each to Carl Berger, 19 Bateson Drive; James Jozokos, 4 and 5 Nicholas Circle; Arthur Charbonneau, 9 Wethersfield Drive; Andover Building and Development corporation, 10 Heritage Lane; and Ralph Cataldo, 8 David Drive.

Residential Addition and Alteration permits worth a total of $798,970 were also issued during July:

Robert C. Brand, 14 Odyssey Way, deck and gazebo with hot tub, $3,000; Alan Levine, 29 Algonquin Ave., kitchen addition and hot tub room, $35,000; Alan Porter, 8 Evergreen Lane, enclose existing deck, $20,000; Robert Ralston, 60 Chestnut St., two-story addition, $19,000; Jack Little,

Hay Scales Exchange To Reopen

The Hay Scales Exchange will reopen Tuesday, Aug. 18, after having been closed for a brief vacation. The public is invited to browse through the handmade items made by more than 600 craft consignors.

The Hay Scales will host a reception for members in September to introduce a new consigner and her work.

The Hay Scales is a volunteer organization promoting the art of handicrafts and providing a market place for craftsmen who cannot compete in the open market because of their limited production. Volunteers are always needed and new members are always welcome. Inquire at the shop if interested in membership, volunteering or consigning.

French Course

"French in Action," a new television course, will be offered September 9 through December 24 by North Shore Community College in Beverly over TV Channels 2 and 44. The course, equivalent to elementary French I and II, offers eight full credits in liberal arts/humanities discipline. Students don't have to leave their living rooms; there are no regular classes.

"French in Action" is a drama depicting the humorous adventures of an American student in Paris who meets a young French woman studying at the Sorbonne. Twenty-six half-hour TV lessons involve dozens of French people in Paris neighborhoods, homes, restaurants, museums, hotels and other sites.

For further information, call Dr. Philip Sbaratta at the college.

Freezer burn occurs when foods are wrapped incorrectly or with the wrong wrapping materials or when punctures develop during the period the food is in the freezer. When wrapping foods with sharp edges, bones, etc., pad those areas with extra wrap to reduce the possibility of puncturing the outer wrapping.

new members to the Andover fire department. They are Robert C. Sheaff, Walter T. Winward, and Michael J. O'Neill.

An evaluation of the recreation/community schools department and a determination of its future direction is due sometime in September.

Veterans Agent John Lewis has updated and made a record of all veterans interred in Andover cemeteries and is in the process of mapping locations. Lewis said the project was undertaken due to interest manifested during the Bicentennial during which many requests were made for locations of veterans' graves.

Health Plan

Harvard Community Health Plan's Peabody Center, 2 Essex Center Drive, will hold an open house for new and prospective members Wednesday, Aug. 19. The one-hour presentation begins at 6 p.m.

The health center is located adjacent to the Northshore Shopping Center, next to Essexbank. The open house will include a question-and-answer session, a tour of the facility and an audio-visual presentation about Harvard Health.

Harvard Community Health Plan is a health maintenance organization, providing prepaid health care to more than 320,000 members throughout eastern Massachusetts in health centers and medical groups.

Certificate Program

An informational meeting for those interested in the free 34-week medical secretarial certificate program at Middlesex Community College will be held Monday, Aug. 31, at 10 a.m. in Building 5, North Campus, Springs Road, Bedford.

Participants must be displaced homemakers (divorced, widowed or separated) single parents, homemakers with a handicapped spouse or mothers lacking marketable skills.

To reserve a place, call the college.

Coast Guard Openings

The U.S. Coast Guard Academy is accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1992. Appointments are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, CT 06320, prior to December 15. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing As-essment (ACT) prior to or including the December 12 administration for ACT and the December 5 administration for the SAT. Competition is based on high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment.

To qualify, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage and have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1988.

Schruender Real Estate: Smooths the Move.

Selling and buying Real Estate can be one of the most important financial decisions of your life. It is time for professional advice, not guesswork.

Are you considering selling your property? Realty USA Schruender Real Estate, located at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover, can help you determine its market value, develop a personalized marketing program and most importantly, get results.

In addition to using traditional advertising media, Realty USA Schruender Real Estate is proud to feature their own company magazine. It allows them to personally direct the marketing of your property to the most qualified audience. Professionals, new arrivals and area residents...All prospective home buyers.

Established in 1963, Realty USA

Schruender Real Estate is North Andover's largest and most active real estate firm. They are members of both the Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors and the Greater Salem Board of Realtors and actively participate in the Boards' Multiple Listing Services.

As such, Realty USA Schruender Real Estate list and sell property primarily in the five towns which the Boards cover: North Andover, Andover, Boxford, Methuen and Lawrence. However, they have also listed and sold in many neighboring towns.

Realty USA Schruender Real Estate has prepared a comprehensive booklet to smooth the move you may be contemplating. In it, you will find valuable information about taxes, schools, hospitals, libraries, churches and synagogues, as well as, shopping and recreational areas.

There is also a "Buyer's Financial Worksheet" to help you determine if you can afford the house you have in mind, as well as handy tips for preparing your house for the market.

Many factors come into play when you are choosing the mortgage that is right for your needs. Are you a Veteran? How much of a down payment can you afford? Use the handy chart included, to help you to compare the options and make an informed decision.

Should you have a question or want advice, telephone Schruender Real Estate at 685-5000 or visit the office at 73 Chickering Road (Rtes. 125 & 133) in North Andover. Olga Jenkins-Price

Head radiator repairman, Stan, at work at Leo J. Couture &amp; Sons

Leo J. Couture & Sons: Towing, Wrecks and Radiator Repair

There are many reasons why people visit Leo J. Couture & Sons' chief radiator repairman, Stan. They might have a problem with their cooling system, a leak in their fuel tank or a problem relating to their heater core or heating system. Whatever the reason, Stan is the man to fix the problem. Leo J. Couture & Sons offer a complete line of new replacement radiators and they can also provide you with a complete new core. If you're looking to save a few extra dollars, Stan will replace your defective radiator with a used one. Not only will you save money but you will still get a guarantee.

Stan is a busy man both summer and winter. In summer, people tend to get complacent about their car care and neglect their cooling systems. If you don't check your cooling system, you run the risk of corrosion, clogging, leaks or worn out hoses. If the cooling fan clutch hasn't been checked or changed in 2½ years, your car could run hot or overheat in bumper-to-bumper traffic or at speeds of 30 m.p.h. or below.

Winter presents its own unique set of problems. If you don't check your antifreeze you could be caught with water in your cooling system which could lead to freezing in the hoses and the engine. So before you crack your block or blow a head gasket, see Stan, the man with the answers to your radiator problems.

In addition to radiator repair, Leo J. Couture & Sons provide a 24 hour towing service. They will also pay cash for your junk cars and late model wrecks, whose parts then become inventory for their junkyard. They will be happy to come right to your door to take the wreck off your hands.

So whether you need a tow, are buying or selling junk parts or need a radiator repair, call Leo J. Couture & Sons at 685-9703 for radiator repair and 686-5884 or 687-9527 for other services. They're located at 54 Medford St., Lawrence (behind the Essex St. Demoulas). Open M-F, 7-4, Sat 7-1.

Wilmington Hyundai: Cars That Make Sense.

Wilmington Hyundai is growing at a phenomenal rate! In the past seven months, 1,500 satisfied customers have passed through their doors and driven away in a Hyundai.

The Hyundai Excel was introduced in the United States in the spring of 1986. Within a few short months it smashed sales records for a first-year import, going on to become the automotive success story of that year.

All of which isn't very suprising. In Canada, Hyundai became the leading import in less than two years and Hyundai cars and trucks are a resounding success in more than sixty-five countries around the world.

The figures are going to grow even more impressively with the introduction of the 1987 Hyundai SE. It is a sporty, eye-catching model that comes in either a four door sedan or three door hatchback. It is available in black, white or charcoal with black alloy rims.

The side mirrors now match the body color as opposed to the black of the past. Sporty buck seats and side stripes add to the appeal of this up-graded 1987 model. It has a four cylinder, 1.5 liter engine and choice of five speed or automatic transmission.

General Manager Jim Doyle invites you to stop in and see for yourself the difference of Wilmington Hyundai. Their casual sales atmosphere is based on a low key, low pressure sales philosophy. Their Hyundai SE is an exciting, new automobile loaded with accessories that have been carefully selected and manufactured to Hyundai's highest standards.

Wilmington Hyundai is located at 220 Main Street, Route 38, Wilmington, Exit 38 off Route 93.

TERMITE SERVICE CONTRACTS

If you own a home in an area where termite activity is common it's a good idea to investigate some of the termite "insurance" options offered by local pest control companies.

First, they will inspect your home for evidence of termites or termite damage. If they find bugs, they will discuss the various treatment options with you. Once your home is termite free, they will offer you a service contract which includes an annual property inspection. If any further treatment or repair is needed, the costs are covered by your service policy.

Because termites can cause serious damage to beams and joists, it's a good idea to have your home checked regularly. A pro will be able to spot termite trouble before it becomes a problem that can compromise the structural integrity of your home. If you're planning to sell your home in the near future, you might have an expert check it for termites before their existence becomes an issue in the sales transaction.

Call the professionals at Realty USA / Schruender Real Estate. Please call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

REDUCING TAX ON SALE PROFIT

If you are selling your home there are ways to reduce the federal tax from any profit you make. If you buy or build a new residence within a period of two years before or after selling your home, the entire gain may be deferred if the purchase price of the new residence exceeds the adjusted sale price of the old residence (gross sale price minus the costs linked to selling the house - like the broker's commission).

Also a taxpayer at least 55 years old is eligible for a once-in-a-lifetime exclusion of up to $125,000 of gain on property used as a principal residence for at least three years of the preceding five year period.

Another method of reducing the federal tax is to establish a higher tax basis for the home being sold. The tax basis is the original cost plus capital improvements. Examples of capital improvements are added rooms, a remodeled kitchen, a new roof, central air conditioning, or a new swimming pool. Keep receipts for all of these improvements.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Peachard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

COMING FOR A BROKER

Most people are happy to pay for the skill and service of a real estate professional. It relieves them from the strain and time burden they would assume if they took the responsibility for selling their home. It is important to realize that a broker may actually save you money in the long run. A good broker will compile essential information about the house, help set a price, advertise it, arrange showings, qualify buyers, and set up the closing transactions. The broker already has contacts and resources in the community and knows what is happening in the local housing market. This means that the agency will be able to line up potential buyers much more quickly than you could. In addition, many prospects are more comfortable dealing with a broker than with a homeowner.

Buying or selling the complexities of the real estate market are real and numerous today. Thus more and more people are seeking the guidance and assistance of experienced and professional real estate people. For help in the real estate market, for the answers to your questions as well as the answers to the questions you should be asking, we urge you to call CENTURY 21 SHAWNEEN REALTY, INC. You'll find us conveniently located at 8-10 Haverhill St., 470-3875. We are open daily, evenings and weekends.

Seifert Outlines Work Program For Coming Year

By Lewis C. Howe

Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, has released his work program for the upcoming academic year. The superintendent's checklist calls for the formation of two new committees and improved administrative interaction with parents, faculty and the school committee.

Seifert's priorities for 1987-88 include the new Planning and Implementation Committee to discuss the major issues affecting town schools. Each school will be represented in the group, according to Seifert's outline. Among the areas for consideration are student competencies, teaching strategies, scheduling and teacher evaluation.

To smoothen the system's budget process, the superintendent has recommended the creation of budget committees within each school and each program area, plus a system-wide group that would present a budget to the administration. This process, Seifert said, will enable him to "present a more understandable budget to the school committee."

The priority list also has provisions for regular meetings between the central administration and the teachers' and administrators' unions. This, the report stated, will allow the groups to "resolve differences and to formulate common goals."

The Andover schools' comprehensive Computer Plan will eat up some of the administration's time. The superintendent will release periodic status reports to the school committee on the implementation of the program.

Seifert also promised to begin the tenure recommendation process within "six weeks" of the opening of school, with final recommendations slated for March.

Other initiatives presented to the school committee by Seifert include a more actively secondary school parents group, the development of a multi-year high school direction plan, a study of student competencies, a monthly newsletter to keep the school committee abreast of week-to-week events and development of a student information system at the secondary level.

In addition to these initiatives, Seifert will work to develop a new evaluation system for teachers and administrators, and oversee the reorganization of the

The revamped administrative structure was adopted when Dr. Leslie Loomis, Assistant Superintendent to the Secondary Schools, resigned in June. Under the present system, both Lois Haslam (Curriculum) and Francis Paul (Operations) will handle grades K-12.

Seifert said he will also assist the school committee in hammering out the system-wide Master Plan.

central administration. "This year, principals and other staff need to learn to work" as part of the new system of one assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, and one for operations. Seifert said his role will be to "monitor and supervise" the changed system, and to "resolve hazy areas" that might confuse staff members.

Voter Hours Financed

Andover has received $1,425.12 from the state auditor's office to offset increased costs for coverage of extended voting hours for the March 8, 1988 presidential primary election.

A. Joseph DeNucci, State Auditor, explained "a 1983 state law setting standardized polling hours statewide from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. means that many of the Commonwealth's citizens will have additional time to vote." But, he added, this also increases costs for individual cities and towns.

It is the responsibility of the Auditor's Division of Local Mandates (DLM) to ensure that cities and towns are reimbursed for any expenses incurred from legislative mandates. Under the polling law, communities must send documentation of their additional elections costs to DLM for review and certification before being forwarded to the Secretary of State's Office.

All but one of Massachusetts' 351 cities and towns will share in the latest distribution. The Town of Lincoln will use volunteer poll workers, and thus incur no costs.

The funds range from $54,640.44 for Boston to $38.70 for Monroe.
